Geneva Session Held

Rusk, Gromyko Discuss Berlin, Nuclear Testing

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met today to sound each other out on conflicting East-West positions on Berlin, nuclear testing and disarmament.

British Foreign Minister Lord Home bowed out temporarily and let Rusk press the Western views on the issues. Rusk and Gromyko got together over the luncheon table in the Soviet delegation's villa.

A British spokesman said Home's temporary withdrawal from the foreign ministers' sessions was a logical development since the Americans and the British are speaking in Geneva with one voice.

Rusk, Gromyko and Lord Home —here for the opening of the 17-nation disarmament conference Wednesday — conferred Sunday night at dinner but reports were that little progress was made.

The Western Allies called on Russia to stop harassing Allied air traffic to Berlin lest increasing tensions there endanger the disarmament negotiations.

Gromyko denied knowledge of Soviet interference in the Berlin air corridors.

Rusk also told Gromyko the United States and Britain would like to get to work promptly on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Gromyko dimmed hopes for a quick agreement by raising the old spy-scare issue to counter President Kennedy's demand that ironclad inspection provisions be written into any treaty.

Rusk again warned Gromyko that unless an agreement can be reached by the middle of April, the United States will go ahead with a series of nuclear atmospheric tests in the central Pacific. Home supported the U.S. stand.

After dinner the three men and their interpreters spent about 90 minutes in private conversation, most of the time presumably devoted to Berlin.

When the dinner conference ended shortly before midnight, Rusk told newsmen, "it was a good night's work. We talked about the Berlin incidents.

"We don't like them (the incidents), and we let them know it."

Asked whether he obtained any satisfaction from Gromyko, Rusk replied, "We'll find out in a day or two."

Rusk did not say what specific Berlin incidents he protested but three matters are understood to have been covered by him and Home. Those were the wounding of a British military chauffeur by an East German border guard half a mile inside East Germany, the scattering of metallic snow by Soviet planes in the Berlin airways Friday to confuse Allied radars, and increasing use of the corridors by Soviet aircraft in an evident harassment campaign.

Some Western informants said the Soviets have been steadily building up the number of their flights in what seems to be a deliberate attempt to block out Western planes for considerable periods of time.

There was some speculation among Western diplomats that the Soviets were trying to provoke the United States, Britain and France into some drastic counter action. According to this theory, they would then walk out of the four-power air safety center in Berlin. The center is the last important four-power agency left in operation in Germany.

New evidence came from Moscow that the Kremlin may be aiming at a new Berlin crisis.

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, renewed Premier Khrushchev's long-standing threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Khrushchev has said such a treaty would give East Germany control of the supply lines to West Berlin, a claim the West has rejected.

Rusk plans to put up to the Russians again a proposal to place the supply lines from West Germany to West Berlin under an international authority. Moscow has rejected the idea several times.

Committee Begins Study Of Proposed Administration Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges today opens a new drive for the administration's trade program which would slash tariffs on many items.

Hodges is the first witness on call as the House Ways and Means Committee begins a month's hearings on a new five-year reciprocal trade program, President Kennedy's major legislative proposal in the foreign field.

Cabinet members and other officials will develop the administration's case during the week. Then it will be the turn of private interests—foreign trade groups who favor the bill and spokesmen for domestic industries which contend added foreign competition will end hopes for eliminating hard core unemployment.

The House tackles another economic measure Tuesday—Kennedy's $435-million, three-year program for retraining unemployed workers and developing needed skills. The Senate passed a compromise version last week.

Later in the week the House will debate proposals to boost welfare payments under the federal-state system, at a cost of $140 million a year above Kennedy's recommendations. The bill also includes administration proposals to liberalize children's aid and other features of the existing system.

The Senate may reach before the weekend a vote on the controversial proposal for the United States to buy $100 million in U.N. bonds to help the international organization through a financial crisis.

The House has scheduled for Thursday action on a compromise bill to tighten the requirements for reports on union-management pension and welfare trust funds.

Two East Palestine men were injured fatally in the crash of their sedan and a tractor-trailer rig early Sunday morning on Route 14 near Columbiana.

Lawrence (Larry) E. Wudske Jr., 24, of 130 W. Martin St., driver of the car, and Dale Blake, 24, of 587 Bacon Ave., a passenger, were pronounced dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital at 3:10 a. m.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said Mr. Wudske ran a stop sign at the junction of Route 14 and County Rd. 421 six miles east of Columbiana.

The sedan ran into the path of a tractor - trailer rig operated by Charles Burklite, 36, of Stephens City, Va. It was demolished, the patrol said.

The Virginia trucker suffered a cerebral concussion and whiplash injuries of the neck. He was admitted to Salem City Hospital.

The patrol said Mr. Wudske died of a fractured skull and his passenger died of a fractured skull and broken neck.

Mr. Wudske was operating a 1956 model sedan that was twisted nearly beyond recognition in the crash with the truck.

The patrol said no charges were filed against the operator of the rig.

A stand-by driver who was asleep in the rig, Lyle Lee of Mountain Lake Park, Md., escaped unhurt, the patrol said.

The deaths of the pair boosted the traffic toll in Columbiana County to eight for 1962, compared with four this time in 1961.

Mr. Wudske was born in East Palestine, Nov. 25, 1937, to Lawrence and Betty McGuckin Wudske, and had worked the last six years as a drill press operator at the National Rubber Machinery Co. in Columbiana.

He attended East Palestine schools and was a member of the Church of Christ and the Sportsmen's Club of Washingtonville.

Jury Seating Opens Boyd's Murder Case

1st Degree Charge Faces Local Man In Wife's Slaying

Selection of a jury began this morning in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to hear a first degree murder charge against William P. Boyd Jr., 22, of East Liverpool, charged with the November shotgun and bludgeon slaying of his wife, Nancy Lee, 18.

Of a venire of 54 prospective jurors, three were questioned this morning, but only one had been seated tentatively. He is Edward Taylor, 610 John St.

Earlier, Mrs. Alma Russell, 957 Main St., Wellsville, was excused for cause. Late this morning, Mrs. Avon Hellman of Salem was being interrogated by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who is presiding, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and counsel for Boyd, Atty. Robert Kapp and Atty. Ben H. Berman.

Selection of the panel probably will not be completed today, court observers said. It is expected to continue into Tuesday morning. When the panel of 12 and at least two alternates have been selected, they will be taken to the scene of the alleged murder.

Boyd appeared in court this morning attired in a dark suit and dark shoes. He sat calmly while his counsel questioned the prospective jurors.

Boyd allegedly confessed to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan that he killed his estranged wife Nov. 5 on a Beaver Creek hillside east of Calcutta by striking her on the head with a tire iron and then firing a shotgun blast at her head at virtually point-blank range. He said they quarreled over her conduct with other men.

Boyd resided at Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. and his wife was living with relatives on Dresden Ave. Ext.

The young woman was reported missing on Nov. 4. Her body was found in the deserted spot Nov. 16 after an anonymous call to the East Liverpool police department.

The sheriff said he obtained a confession from Boyd Nov. 21 following an investigation in which

During a routine weekend check in Hancock County, West Virginia State Police cited the licensee of a Chester area tavern Saturday night on a liquor law violation.

Margaret Watson, licensee of the Cactus Bar on Route 30, was cited on a charge of possession of alcoholic liquor on licensed premises. Officers said the liquor was displayed openly.

She was scheduled for a hearing today or tonight before Squire Eugene Allison of Chester.

Girl Relives Crash Which Killed Family

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A 7-year-old girl, only survivor of a family of five whose home was destroyed in the crash of a military plane, is reliving the tragedy although still in a coma.

"I see it coming," Janice Levron mumbles over and over, her doctors reported. "I see it coming."

She apparently is referring to a crippled C119 which wrecked her family's six-room farm house Saturday night in Kenilworth, 22 miles southeast of New Orleans.

Janice's father, Lube Levron, 33, her mother and two brothers —Kirby, 10, and a year-old boy — were killed. The six plane crewmen, all from Ohio, parachuted to safety.

Dr. Lawrence Hill said he believed Janice, found outside the ruined home, had a skull fracture. A neuro-surgeon was called in.

The Air Force said the lumbering plane developed trouble after refueling minutes earlier at New Orleans' Callender Field. The plane headed back but didn't make it. The Levron home is about 9 miles from the air field.

A pile of splintered devastation was all that was left of the home that Levron, a construction worker, had recently finished redecorating and enlarging. Scattered in the wreckage were shreds of clothing, family photos, children's toys.

Air Force officials declined comment on details of the crash. They said the crewmen, all uninjured, were held for medical ob-

Johnson Due To Campaign In Key States

Vice President Set To Be Speaker For Democrat Dinners

WASHINGTON (AP)—At President Kennedy's suggestion, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is scheduling political campaigning likely to take him into a dozen key states before the November election.

The vice president is understood to have agreed to be the principal speaker at four party fund-raising rallies to be chosen by national chairman John M. Bailey. Johnson already has filled this role in New Jersey and Minnesota.

As matters stand, Johnson runs second only to Kennedy in campaign speaking invitations. Kennedy, who spoke Saturday night at a $100-a-plate dinner in Miami Beach, Fla., apparently is going to limit this aspect of his political activities.

Johnson is expected to accept invitations to make campaign appearances in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and several Western states, including California.

The vice president already is billed as the speaker for a Democratic dinner in Chicago being arranged by Mayor Richard Daley. Johnson will make a nonpolitical appearance as speaker for the annual Alfred E. Smith dinner in New York this fall.

Indians Hail Visit By Wife Of President

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—More than 100,000 Indians turned out today to give a warm welcome to America's First Lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, starting a two-week visit to India and Pakistan.

Mrs. Kennedy's nine-day visit to India has been billed as a semi-official one, and today's welcome lacked the pomp and ceremony of state occasions. But it had the enthusiasm and color of greetings for such previous visitors as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II.

The sizable crowd along Mrs. Kennedy's seven-mile route from the airport was not the only surprise. She provided one of her own by departing from her scheduled program to see the pageantry of President Rajendra Prasad's drive home from the formal opening of Parliament. From a rampart overlooking Parliament she saw his shiny black horse-drawn carriage pass below escorted by mounted lancers in scarlet tunics.

After an overnight flight from Rome, Mrs. Kennedy was welcomed at New Delhi Airport by Prime Minister Nehru, his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and his sister, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit.

A spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy was impressed by the warmth, color and graciousness of the reception.

$1,000 Loss Seen In Theft At Junk Yard

Proprietor's Truck Used To Haul Loot At River Rd. Site

Scrap metal and other items worth more than $1,000 were hauled away from the Caplan Junk Yard on the River Rd. Saturday night or Sunday in the proprietor's own truck by burglars who also caused $1,000 damage to a set of heavy scales, police reported.

The principal items of loot were 100 pounds of mercury worth $300, 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of copper wire valued at $400 and 1,000 pounds of scrap auto radiators worth $200, police said.

In addition, the intruders took $1 in pennies, a radio worth $30, 20 cutting torch tips valued at $50, a box of cigars worth $5 and a box of socket wrenches worth $25, officers said. Nathan Caplan was listed as the owner.

The loot was loaded onto Caplan's truck and hauled away, officers said. Taken from a garage at the scrap yard, it is a 1956 half-ton Chevrolet pickup with license 4-MF-21.

The intruders vandalized the office and other property at the scrap yard, police said. Damage to the scales was estimated at $1,000. In addition, a window worth $5 was broken, officers said.

The intruders forced open the gate in a fence around the yard, then broke a window to enter the office, police said. The office was ransacked thoroughly in a search for valuables and "considerable" damage was done in vandalism, police said.

Ruling Slated Tuesday On Chester Aspirants

Atty. Ruth Cox Turner, Chester city solicitor, will make a ruling on Section 4 of the city charter concerning the qualifications of candidates at a special meeting of Council Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Mayor Ray Collins made the request for the ruling since there was a question on interpretation of the section as to whether councilmen must be property-owners.

Atty. Turner will work today and Tuesday to check qualifications of candidates for the city primary April 3.

Tests Slated For Pair In Ohio Slaying

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Two parolees, who admit being on the scene when Elida Mayor and Constable Clarence Prince was shot down Saturday morning, were to be taken to the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London today.

Sheriff's deputies said the pair —Larry Hance, alias Larry Cox, 22, and Robert Lafferty, 21, both of Lima—admit they were involved. However, officers say Hance says Lafferty fired the shots and Lafferty accuses Hance of being the triggerman.

Officers said the pair would undergo lie detector tests today, and a ballistic test will be given a .38 caliber revolver found in Lafferty's home.

Prince, 54, was shot twice by a .38 caliber revolver as he neared a suspicious looking automobile parked in the center of town in Elida Saturday morning.

Prince, whose son, Clarence Jr., is Elida's marshall, had been summoned by neighbors.

Following the shooting, several persons obtained the license number of the car as it sped away.

Local Motorist, 37, 4 Of Youngstown Hurt On Route 30

A city resident and four others from Youngstown were injured in a two-car crash at a sharp curve on the Route 30 Chester Hill at 12:58 a. m. Sunday.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the drivers were William Ferguson, 37, of 304 Norton St., and Chester Ray, 51, of Youngstown.

Deputies said Ray, east-bound in a 1959 model sedan, pulled out to pass cars in front and collided head-on with Ferguson's west - bound 1954 model sedan, coming from the opposite direction.

The accident occurred on the sharp curve where Johnsonville Rd. intersects with Route 30, about a mile from Chester, deputies said.

Both drivers were injured, in addition to two women and a man who were passengers in Ray's car.

Negotiations Continue

French, Rebels Remain At Odds On Peace Plans

EVIAN, France (AP) — French and Algerian rebel delegates went into their sixth day of peace talks today still at odds on the makeup and powers of an interim regime to take over until Algeria becomes a nation.

Informants close to the conference in the heavily guarded Hotel Du Parc were still optimistic that the negotiations would end in agreement but conceded it might not come as quickly as hoped.

The delegations are striving to reach agreement on a cease-fire to end the 7½-year-old Algerian rebellion. The accord would be accompanied by a lengthy document spelling out Algeria's future on a basis of self-determination.

Two main issues are said to confront the delegations — the makeup of the provisional executive and the strength of the local force or local gendarmerie which would have chief responsibility for keeping order during the interim period.

Both delegations maintained a strict secrecy rule in contacts with newsmen here and across Lake Geneva in neutral Switzerland where the rebels have their headquarters.

Reliable informants said a lengthy Sunday session failed to produce full agreement on the executive. One reported proposal was for a 12-man panel composed of nine Moslems of no political affiliation and three Europeans. Another called for a panel of four Algerian nationalists, four other Moslems and four Europeans.

The Algerians were reported seeking a larger local force for the interim regime than the French were willing to concede so far.

In strife-torn Algiers, Europeans opened fire from windows and balconies on a French army patrol after it stopped a carload of Europeans trying to break through a military roadblock.

New England Tragedy

'Better Off Dead,' States Youth Who Shot Family

NEWPORT, N.H. (AP) — A slight 17-year-old high school boy who police said admitted killing his parents and two brothers was brought back to his saddened and shocked home town today.

John William McGrath was driven under police guard the 50 miles from Concord to Newport for a closed-door Juvenile Court hearing.

Splattered with blood, the blond and bespectacled youth drove to Concord late Saturday night and told police he killed his entire family because he felt they would be better off dead.

Young McGrath had been under psychiatric treatment for two years.

The slayings in the central New Hampshire community of Newport, a town of 5,500 population about 50 miles northwest of Concord, left neighbors saddened and puzzled. Blond and bespectacled, the boy was considered bright. He was in the last year of high school.

The victims were Francis L. McGrath, 37; his wife, Willena, 40; and their sons, Peter F., 13, and Charles A., 5.

Police quoted the 17-year-old as saying in explanation of the shootings Saturday night: "I was thinking about their suffering. They always have troubles."

Police said he told them he arrived home from his supermarket job Saturday night and found his parents angry at each other. The parents went out shortly afterward.

The boy told police he got a Japanese rifle and shot Peter in a hallway. Then he went into a bedroom and killed Charles in his bed.

Duffy's Unopposed For Mayor's Nod

Alvin B. Clutter, 39, withdrew Saturday afternoon as a Democratic candidate for mayor of Chester in the April 3 city primary.

John S. Duffy of Leander Dr. is the only other Democratic candidate for mayor. Duffy served one term as mayor from 1938 to 1940.

"After very serious consideration, I don't feel that I could devote enough time to the office which I seek," Clutier said.

"I feel that the next two years are crucial times for the city, what with the sewage disposal problem and the other problems that confront our city at the present time.

"Therefore, I am withdrawing as a candidate, in the hopes that one of my opponents, whichever one it may be, can devote more time and energy to our city problems than I, a six-day-a-week steel mill employe."

As matters stand, Johnson runs second only to Kennedy in campaign speaking invitations. Kennedy, who spoke Saturday night at a $100-a-plate dinner in Miami Beach, Fla., apparently is going to limit this aspect of his political activities.

Johnson is expected to accept invitations to make campaign appearances in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and several Western states, including California.

The vice president already is billed as the speaker for a Democratic dinner in Chicago being arranged by Mayor Richard Daley. Johnson will make a nonpolitical appearance as speaker for the annual Alfred E. Smith dinner in New York this fall.

Negotiations Continue

French, Rebels Remain At Odds On Peace Plans

EVIAN, France (AP) — French and Algerian rebel delegates went into their sixth day of peace talks today still at odds on the makeup and powers of an interim regime to take over until Algeria becomes a nation.

Informants close to the conference in the heavily guarded Hotel Du Parc were still optimistic that the negotiations would end in agreement but conceded it might not come as quickly as hoped.

The delegations are striving to reach agreement on a cease-fire to end the 7½-year-old Algerian rebellion. The accord would be accompanied by a lengthy document spelling out Algeria's future on a basis of self-determination.

Two main issues are said to confront the delegations — the makeup of the provisional executive and the strength of the local force or local gendarmerie which would have chief responsibility for keeping order during the interim period.

Both delegations maintained a strict secrecy rule in contacts with newsmen here and across Lake Geneva in neutral Switzerland where the rebels have their headquarters.

Reliable informants said a lengthy Sunday session failed to produce full agreement on the executive. One reported proposal was for a 12-man panel composed of nine Moslems of no political affiliation and three Europeans. Another called for a panel of four Algerian nationalists, four other Moslems and four Europeans.

The Algerians were reported seeking a larger local force for the interim regime than the French were willing to concede so far.

In strife-torn Algiers, Europeans opened fire from windows and balconies on a French army patrol after it stopped a carload of Europeans trying to break through a military roadblock.

Indians Hail Visit By Wife Of President

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—More than 100,000 Indians turned out today to give a warm welcome to America's First Lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, starting a two-week visit to India and Pakistan.

Mrs. Kennedy's nine-day visit to India has been billed as a semi-official one, and today's welcome lacked the pomp and ceremony of state occasions. But it had the enthusiasm and color of greetings for such previous visitors as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II.

The sizable crowd along Mrs. Kennedy's seven-mile route from the airport was not the only surprise. She provided one of her own by departing from her scheduled program to see the pageantry of President Rajendra Prasad's drive home from the formal opening of Parliament. From a rampart overlooking Parliament she saw his shiny black horse-drawn carriage pass below escorted by mounted lancers in scarlet tunics.

After an overnight flight from Rome, Mrs. Kennedy was welcomed at New Delhi Airport by Prime Minister Nehru, his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and his sister, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit.

A spokesman said Mrs. Kennedy was impressed by the warmth, color and graciousness of the reception.

Proprietor's Truck Used To Haul Loot At River Rd. Site

Scrap metal and other items worth more than $1,000 were hauled away from the Caplan Junk Yard on the River Rd. Saturday night or Sunday in the proprietor's own truck by burglars who also caused $1,000 damage to a set of heavy scales, police reported.

The principal items of loot were 100 pounds of mercury worth $300, 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of copper wire valued at $400 and 1,000 pounds of scrap auto radiators worth $200, police said.

In addition, the intruders took $1 in pennies, a radio worth $30, 20 cutting torch tips valued at $50, a box of cigars worth $5 and a box of socket wrenches worth $25, officers said. Nathan Caplan was listed as the owner.

The loot was loaded onto Caplan's truck and hauled away, officers said. Taken from a garage at the scrap yard, it is a 1956 half-ton Chevrolet pickup with license 4-MF-21.

The intruders vandalized the office and other property at the scrap yard, police said. Damage to the scales was estimated at $1,000. In addition, a window worth $5 was broken, officers said.

The intruders forced open the gate in a fence around the yard, then broke a window to enter the office, police said. The office was ransacked thoroughly in a search for valuables and "considerable" damage was done in vandalism, police said.

Ruling Slated Tuesday On Chester Aspirants

Atty. Ruth Cox Turner, Chester city solicitor, will make a ruling on Section 4 of the city charter concerning the qualifications of candidates at a special meeting of Council Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Mayor Ray Collins made the request for the ruling since there was a question on interpretation of the section as to whether councilmen must be property-owners.

Atty. Turner will work today and Tuesday to check qualifications of candidates for the city primary April 3.

Tests Slated For Pair In Ohio Slaying

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Two parolees, who admit being on the scene when Elida Mayor and Constable Clarence Prince was shot down Saturday morning, were to be taken to the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation at London today.

Sheriff's deputies said the pair —Larry Hance, alias Larry Cox, 22, and Robert Lafferty, 21, both of Lima—admit they were involved. However, officers say Hance says Lafferty fired the shots and Lafferty accuses Hance of being the triggerman.

Officers said the pair would undergo lie detector tests today, and a ballistic test will be given a .38 caliber revolver found in Lafferty's home.

Prince, 54, was shot twice by a .38 caliber revolver as he neared a suspicious looking automobile parked in the center of town in Elida Saturday morning.

Prince, whose son, Clarence Jr., is Elida's marshall, had been summoned by neighbors.

Following the shooting, several persons obtained the license number of the car as it sped away.

2-Way Crash Injures 5 In Chester Area

Local Motorist, 37, 4 Of Youngstown Hurt On Route 30

A city resident and four others from Youngstown were injured in a two-car crash at a sharp curve on the Route 30 Chester Hill at 12:58 a. m. Sunday.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said the drivers were William Ferguson, 37, of 304 Norton St., and Chester Ray, 51, of Youngstown.

Deputies said Ray, east-bound in a 1959 model sedan, pulled out to pass cars in front and collided head-on with Ferguson's west - bound 1954 model sedan, coming from the opposite direction.

The accident occurred on the sharp curve where Johnsonville Rd. intersects with Route 30, about a mile from Chester, deputies said.

Both drivers were injured, in addition to two women and a man who were passengers in Ray's car.

Ferguson suffered lacerations of

'Better Off Dead,' States Youth Who Shot Family

NEWPORT, N.H. (AP) — A slight 17-year-old high school boy who police said admitted killing his parents and two brothers was brought back to his saddened and shocked home town today.

John William McGrath was driven under police guard the 50 miles from Concord to Newport for a closed-door Juvenile Court hearing.

Splattered with blood, the blond and bespectacled youth drove to Concord late Saturday night and told police he killed his entire family because he felt they would be better off dead.

Young McGrath had been under psychiatric treatment for two years.

The slayings in the central New Hampshire community of Newport, a town of 5,500 population about 50 miles northwest of Concord, left neighbors saddened and puzzled. Blond and bespectacled, the boy was considered bright. He was in the last year of high school.

The victims were Francis L. McGrath, 37; his wife, Willena, 40; and their sons, Peter F., 13, and Charles A., 5.

Police quoted the 17-year-old as saying in explanation of the shootings Saturday night: "I was thinking about their suffering. They always have troubles."

Police said he told them he arrived home from his supermarket job Saturday night and found his parents angry at each other. The parents went out shortly afterward.

The boy told police he got a Japanese rifle and shot Peter in a hallway. Then he went into a bedroom and killed Charles in his bed.

When Mr. and Mrs. McGrath

Clutter Drops Chester Race

Duffy's Unopposed For Mayor's Nod

Alvin B. Clutter, 39, withdrew Saturday afternoon as a Democratic candidate for mayor of Chester in the April 3 city primary.

John S. Duffy of Leander Dr. is the only other Democratic candidate for mayor. Duffy served one term as mayor from 1938 to 1940.

"After very serious consideration, I don't feel that I could devote enough time to the office which I seek," Clutter said.

"I feel that the next two years are crucial times for the city, what with the sewage disposal problem and the other problems that confront our city at the present time.

"Therefore, I am withdrawing as a candidate, in the hopes that one of my opponents, whichever one it may be, can devote more time and energy to our city problems than I, a six-day-a-week steel mill employe."

$2,600 Fund Charge Holds Man In Chester

A Chester man was bound over to the April Grand Jury of Hancock County Circuit Court when he waived preliminary hearing Saturday before Squire John D. Herron on a charge of embezzlement.

Clarence Baker, who was returned from Texas last week by County Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny, later posted $2,500 bond for his release to await action by the Grand Jury.

Baker is charged with embezzlement of over $2,600 from the Delano Granite Works Inc. of Columbus. Authorities said he was a dealer for the Ohio firm.

Sheriff Manypenny flew to Falfurris, near Corpus Christi, to return Baker for the hearing before the New Cumberland squire. Baker had obtained work there, authorities said.

the face and a fractured left jaw. He was treated at City Hospital. Deputies said he later was removed to Weirton General Hospital.

Ray suffered several lacerations of the mouth, a possible fractured lower jaw, and contusions and lacerations of the knee. His wife, Mrs. Willie Ray, 50, suffered possible fractures of the right ribs, lacerations of the left knee and leg, and contusions of the right knee and multiple lacerations of the right leg.

James Leonard, 38, sustained a laceration of the scalp and upper lip, contusions of the left eye and a possible fractured left cheek. Frances Jones, 30, received a possible head injury, contusions of the left face and a small abrasion of the left leg.

All four Mahoning County residents were transferred from City Hospital to St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Youngstown.

Deputies said both cars were demolished. An investigation is continuing.

Deputies also investigated another weekend traffic crash that involved drivers from East Liverpool.

Deputies said a 1959 model sedan driven east by Robert Earl Putt, 17, of 857 Armstrong Ln., collided with the west-bound car of Harry Y. George, 59, of 2 Monticello Pl., at 8:15 p. m. Sunday on Route 30 near the Club Paddock.

Deputies said Putt was slowing when his auto skidded into the 1962 model driven by George, operator of Litten Motors.

Neither driver was injured and no arrests were made, the sheriff's office in New Cumberland reported. Deputies estimated $500 damage to each car.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

Published Daily Except Sunday
By Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Established Oct. 25, 1879
Member Associated Press

Calmer Thinking Might Help

The Review welcomes letters from its readers, feeling strongly that such expressions of opinion are a most important part of a free press.

As expected, the letters have been pouring in relative to the city income tax recently enacted by Council.

Some, in our opinion, have taken on a certain viciousness, however, which does credit neither to the writers nor to the issues involved. The soundness of such expressions as "dictators", "Red flag over City Hall" and others can be questioned when considered in a calmer light.

Regardless of whether you are for or against the tax, the councilmen who voted to enact it aren't the monsters that so many would have us believe. They are average residents of East Liverpool trying to do a job to the best of their ability. They were well aware that criticism would follow their decision, but had the courage to stick to their guns and do what they felt was necessary to meet a financial emergency.

And the mayor and the safety - service director are not the scoundrels that so many would have us believe. They, too, were elected to do a job and they, too, are doing it to the best of their ability.

Things have even reached the point where one letter - writer who favors the tax has become the target of anonymous phone calls. This would seem to be throwing the word "dictator" back in the faces of those who first uttered it in connection with the tax.

This is not to say that you must agree with those who have endorsed the tax, but it is to suggest that a more constructive approach to the problem would be more beneficial to the community as a whole than the name-calling which has been taking place.

Proud Record

The East Liverpool area can be proud of the part it has played in the program as troops all over the nation mark 50 years of Girl Scouting.

Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga., who established the Girl Scouts, would have looked with satisfaction on the observance at Westgate School Sunday which attracted 1,200.

In accordance with the national observance, emphasis is being placed on service and the members of the area Council will be assisting with projects designed to better their lives as future citizens.

May the future be as satisfying as the past in Girl Scouting.

Survival Always Comes First

Even the best-laid political plan can come a cropper.

The U.S. House of Representatives proved it when it killed a carefully-nursed bill to add three seats in the House and thus save the political skins of incumbents in Missouri, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, which will lose one seat each in 1963 because of the 1960 census and the new statehood of Alaska and Hawaii.

The immediate cause of death, it developed later, was a floor amendment resulting from a political deal between the Democratic sponsor of the bill and the Republican leader of the House.

The amendment would have required either that the three state legislatures meet and redistrict or that all the seats from those three states be filled in statewide elections.

THIS SCARED silly all the 52 incumbents from Missouri, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, who would find it strange, expensive and potentially dangerous to run at-large instead of in the security of the districts where they have run and won before.

Among them, incidentally, is the speaker, who indicated he was not about to honor a gentleman's agreement with an act of Congress. This suggests even politicians sometimes are horrified at the things they do.

So much for the immediate cause of death. The chronic ailment afflicting all matters of legislative organization is that they are left to the legislators themselves.

The legislative branch at any level of government can tamper with the executive or judicial branches, but neither of those branches can fiddle with the legislative limb.

This is the reason most states suffer from inequities in legislative representation. It is the reason many state legislatures fail to redistrict their congressional seats despite the most pressing and logical demand.

LEGISLATORS often see it as their duty to legislate other politicians out of jobs but feel an equally strong sense of duty to protect their own. This situation stems from pure partisanship, but becomes nonpartisan in the maneuvering.

Such was the case in the U.S. House last week. The nation is as well off with 435 instead of 438 congressmen, so few tears will be shed over the death of the expansion bill.

But the chronic ailment that afflicts legislative organization everywhere remains uncured.

Be Prepared

The 16th annual Vocational Guidance Week will be held April 2-6 at East Liverpool High School.

With announcement of the dates goes our annual appeal that the students prepare themselves properly for the conferences. Don't regard them merely as just another assignment. Instead, consider the program objectively.

Give each conference in which you are interested serious thought and draft a list of sensible questions before hand and have them ready when you enter the classroom. Take part in the discussion period which will be offered.

While an hour is a short time so far as guidance is concerned, there's always the possibility that the right question may pay substantial dividends later.

Berlin Morale Seen Lagging

By Marguerite Higgins

BERLIN

"Is there a difference between Berlin morale today and the time of the first blockade? Yes, and I think the main thing is this:

"Back in 1948 all of us Berliners were made to feel almost as heroes for resisting Russian pressure. Today we feel that our outspoken feeling against the Communist is almost an embarrassment to the (Kennedy) administration.

"During the blockade we were proud of the sense of wonder and excitement among Americans that all of us preferred to suffer cold and hardship rather than give in to the Communists.

"Today, by contrast, we hear constantly about the difficulties of maintaining Berlin's freedom, its so-called geographical disadvantage, etc. It is as if, by merely existing in this particular location, we are a constant source of irritation to Washington in its efforts to reach a modus vivendi with the Russians."

THIS WAS SPOKEN recently by a Berlin newspaperwoman who also happened to serve as this correspondent's secretary during the 1948 Soviet blockade.

Is hers a parochial point of view? After all the presidential assurances from Washington, high-level and morale - building visits, American officials perhaps can be pardoned for believing that the city of Berlin, like an overanxious wife, makes such a persistent clamor for ever more ardent expressions of American affection as to cause irritations where none need exist.

But Berlin's doubts are not so simply accounted for.

These anxieties stem mainly from the conclusion among top authorities in the city that there is all too frequently a cleavage between views of American officials in Berlin on how to deal with Soviet pressure and the views of certain top level State Department and White House advisers in Washington.

THE WASHINGTON school that alarms Berliners is the one that believes the Soviet system is satiable; that a solution — as distinguished from a mere truce —is possible.

In other words, this school holds that an accommodation between East and West can be achieved through some sort of compromise that would make it worthwhile for Russia to abandon its announced intentions to use all means short of nuclear war to become the first successful One Worlders — Communist One Worlders.

The Berliners have diagnosed correctly that the State Department is in fact torn between officials believing in Soviet satiability and those believing Russia to be insatiable and therefore by definition incapable of settling for a permanent and fair solution even of the status quo since this would inhibit Russia's drive for a Communist one world.

And if Berlin's morale, the West's first line of defense in Europe, has managed recently to stage a comeback, it is in part because there are indications that President Kennedy has not yet chosen between the satiable and insatiable school of advisers.

SO BERLINERS have great hopes that he eventually will side with their view of Bolshevik insatiability which, naturally, they consider the only realistic one. And the recent visit to Berlin of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, whose plain speaking won him not just Berlin's affection but also their respect, has reinforced that hope.

Says a veteran Berlin official:

"A crucial example of this conflict on dealing with the Russians is the question of what is or is not 'provocative.' It is our conviction that the Russians stand to gain enormous and unnecessary advantage over misplaced and confused Western notions about what is 'provocative.'

"CONSIDER the case of Steinstuecken (a tiny community outside the American sector of Berlin which, however, historically has been an administrative part of the American occupied part of the city).

"It is America's right, and indeed duty to look after this enclave. And yet after Aug. 13, when your authorities in Berlin began to exercise this right (flying over the small amount of intervening East Germany territory between the American sector of Berlin and Steinstuecken by helicopter), some Americans in high places denounced this as provocative.

"They suggested that calling attention to American responsibility for Steinstuecken might 'upset the Russians,' and interfere with attempts to reach a modus vivendi on Berlin."

"IT ALWAYS has amazed us," the Berlin official continued, "that Americans such as Ambassador Thompson in Moscow are so convinced that soft words and friendly gestures make an impression on the Russians. Aren't you transferring your own values without evidence that they mean anything to the Russians?

"For instance, during the time several weeks ago when the U.S. was making concessions on summitry, Premier Khrushchev's son in law — the one who interviewed your President — was calling Mr. Kennedy a naive reactionary bent on the repression of progress in Latin America and in fact implicated in the torture and murder of 300,000 Colombian citizens.

"Those who believe Russia is satiable," he concluded, "think that so-called 'restraint' — such as ignoring Steinstuecken — will bring counter - restraint from the Russians.

"Our side believes that a failure to exercise Western rights merely will encourage the Russians to usurp them."

Charges 'Poor Example Of Democracy'

I am a man who has served our country for 13 years, in all the cities of the United States, Germany and Korea, and I have never seen democracy practiced like it is here in East Liverpool.

This is the poorest example of a democratic city that it has ever been my misfortune to call home. When I entered the service I fully believed that I was going to fight for a government of the people and for the people. Such is not the case in East Liverpool.

The people's vote means nothing in this town. It's no wonder half of the people do not bother to vote. How many times have we voted this tax out? Still it turns up again because someone here needs money.

Now tell me, who doesn't need money? I do, for my pay check never stretches far enough and still more taxes are shoved on us. How would your minority, who needs this tax, feel if the rest of us got together and said we need money to pay our bills so we will tax you 80 cents on every $100 you make? You can be sure you would raise the roof, especially if you could not see what the money was spent for.

A lot of people feel this tax would be fine if it was used as it should be. But the strangest part of the whole business is that no one can point to exactly where the money went. Why? Is it a big secret?

I read Mr. Parson's letter and I heartily agree with him and some of the others. I also live on Claybourne Ave., or what is called Claybourne Ave. now. I should say, since part of this street has been done away with by people and Carpenter's Run.

So the old Y & O roadbed has become a part of Claybourne Ave. It was always considered a private drive by the city so we could not get any service out here from the street department. But when the city needed somewhere to put the new sewer it dug up our road. After the sewer was put in the road started to sink in spots. After many calls to City Hall we got a few loads of ashes and dirt to fill these places in. Now because of the weather and no care our road is not fit for anyone to drive on. Yet everyone uses it — the men and equipment of Chapin and Chapin, contractors, to say nothing of city vehicles. Even the safety director has drove out here any number of times. Yet they still insist it is a private drive.

It would only need a good scraping the holes filled and even though it is a dirt road it would be better than St. Clair. Another thing, there are four home owners at the end of the road who have no outlet at all because Densmore Alley has been cut off by the new freeway. And it is a city-owned alley that did connect on to our private drive. If any of these people need an ambulance they are out of luck. Still the city admits to owning this alley, but it has neither end opened so it could be used. Yes I know the lower end of Claybourne was oiled, but how long did it last? This is only one of the roads in our town that need fixed, but none of them have had any work to speak of done on them. Why?

We have money to buy places to tear down for parking lots. We have money for Meter Maids who are doing the jobs our police are supposed to do.

I never go into town that I don't see three or four policeman either setting in cruisers or standing around talking. Is that what you call work that makes these Meter Maids necessary?

Now someone says we need a more modern lighting system downtown. Why? Our town is in such poor shape I'd be ashamed to make it any brighter until I did something about the roads. All this needs money you say? Sure it does and every one would be willing to accept this tax if such improvements came about, but I think the tax has had plenty of time to show what could be done with the money and it hasn't. So I guess we will have to pay it until another election comes then vote it out again. But I for one am getting tired of being told to pay this tax when I don't even have enough left of my pay check to pay my own bills.

Why don't the town just secceed from the state? I'm sure someone could make a flag like Russia's. We are being forced to live like an oppressed people.

Ashing Program Draws An Attack

I have lived in Gardendale for 12 years now and I just found out something I never knew before.

We have been fighting to keep our road open down in here because it is our only way in and out of here. The city will ash St. Clair and turn around at the top of Gardendale Ave., then they will go back down town or somewhere else. They could very easily ash the hill (Gardendale Ave.) for us, but they won't. Later they come back and ash. Then they send the scrapper down and take off all the ashes the ash truck puts on.

I say it is no wonder the city has no money if they work that way every place. One crew or another has been up here three times and still all of Gardendale has not been ashed or taken care of. It is so rough and bumpy you can't even get a run on the hill to get out. Probably in another day or two when the snow is about gone they will be back out again to finish the job.

Once again council has enacted the city income tax and everyone is expected to adhere to their wishes. So far no one has refused to do their part. I think it's about time the city adheres to the wishes of its citizens.

When Mr. Goodballet was running for mayor he promised the people that he was going to set up a street improvement program. The city at this time was in no worse shape financially than it is at this present day. But we know often politicians' promises are made to be broken.

I would like to inform Mr. Parsons and all the other good people who live on unimproved streets that Mr. Owen, our service director, informed my husband over the telephone that the city is under no obligation (by law according to Mr. Owen to take care of our unimproved streets.

They want our money but they don't want to do anything for us in return. A committee from Gardendale went to city council a few years back and made the suggestion that we the people of Gardendale keep our tax money and repair our own streets. Council would not hear to this. Again I say the city wants our money but they don't want to do anything for us.

I think they need to get some one in there who really has our city at heart and really knows how to handle our money and knows how to do a job right and not halfways.

MRS. ALBERT J. GARVEY
Canton St., Gardendale

Editor's Note — Queried about the statement above that the city is not obligated to take care of unimproved streets, Owen pointed out that all the street department's revenue comes from the city's share of gasoline tax and auto license fees and state law earmarks it for maintenance of improved streets.

Waving Of Red Flag Denounced

I am writing this in regard to several of the articles I have been reading in The Review lately relative to the income tax issue in East Liverpool.

The tax does not concern me but what does are those few people who are so willing to wave the so-called Red flag.

I have had the opportunity in my life time, as have so many other millions of proud Americans, to fight for our good old Stars and Stripes. And when I read what I have lately in the Letters To The Editor it makes me sick.

Some people don't realize how good they have it here in the good old U.S.A. You have the right to vote again and again, but where that Red flag comes from you don't even get to vote once.

To make these kind of statements openly in Russia they would more than likely be dead or working in a salt mine by now.

Calmer Thinking Might Help

The Review welcomes letters from its readers, feeling strongly that such expressions of opinion are a most important part of a free press.

As expected, the letters have been pouring in relative to the city income tax recently enacted by Council.

Some, in our opinion, have taken on a certain viciousness, however, which does credit neither to the writers nor to the issues involved. The soundness of such expressions as "dictators", "Red flag over City Hall" and others can be questioned when considered in a calmer light.

Regardless of whether you are for or against the tax, the councilmen who voted to enact it aren't the monsters that so many would have us believe. They are average residents of East Liverpool trying to do a job to the best of their ability. They were well aware that criticism would follow their decision, but had the courage to stick to their guns and do what they felt was necessary to meet a financial emergency.

And the mayor and the safety - service director are not the scoundrels that so many would have us believe. They, too, were elected to do a job and they, too, are doing it to the best of their ability.

Things have even reached the point where one letter - writer who favors the tax has become the target of anonymous phone calls. This would seem to be throwing the word "dictator" back in the faces of those who first uttered it in connection with the tax.

This is not to say that you must agree with those who have endorsed the tax, but it is to suggest that a more constructive approach to the problem would be more beneficial to the community as a whole than the name-calling which has been taking place.

Proud Record

The East Liverpool area can be proud of the part it has played in the program as troops all over the nation mark 50 years of Girl Scouting.

Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga., who established the Girl Scouts, would have looked with satisfaction on the observance at Westgate School Sunday which attracted 1,200.

In accordance with the national observance, emphasis is being placed on service and the members of the area Council will be assisting with projects designed to better their lives as future citizens.

May the future be as satisfying as the past in Girl Scouting.

Survival Always Comes First

Even the best-laid political plan can come a cropper.

Gen. Robert Kennedy, whose plain speaking won him not just Berlin's affection but also their respect, has reinforced that hope.

Says a veteran Berlin official:

"A crucial example of this conflict on dealing with the Russians is the question of what is or is not 'provocative.' It is our conviction that the Russians stand to gain enormous and unnecessary advantage over misplaced and confused Western notions about what is 'provocative.'

"CONSIDER the case of Steinstuecken (a tiny community outside the American sector of Berlin which, however, historically has been an administrative part of the American occupied part of the city).

"It is America's right, and indeed duty to look after this enclave. And yet after Aug. 13, when your authorities in Berlin began to exercise this right (flying over the small amount of intervening East Germany territory between the American sector of Berlin and Steinstuecken by helicopter), some Americans in high places denounced this as provocative.

"They suggested that calling attention to American responsibility for Steinstuecken might 'upset the Russians,' and interfere with attempts to reach a modus vivendi on Berlin."

"IT ALWAYS has amazed us," the Berlin official continued, "that Americans such as Ambassador Thompson in Moscow are so convinced that soft words and friendly gestures make an impression on the Russians. Aren't you transferring your own values without evidence that they mean anything to the Russians?

"For instance, during the time several weeks ago when the U.S. was making concessions on summitry, Premier Khrushchev's son in law — the one who interviewed your President — was calling Mr. Kennedy a naive reactionary bent on the repression of progress in Latin America and in fact implicated in the torture and murder of 300,000 Colombian citizens.

"Those who believe Russia is satiable," he concluded, "think that so-called 'restraint' — such as ignoring Steinstuecken — will bring counter - restraint from the Russians.

"Our side believes that a failure to exercise Western rights merely will encourage the Russians to usurp them."

Odd Facts

If you're a worry - bird, you may sometimes want to use three tests in determining whether a cake is baked. A cake tester inserted in the center should come out clean; the edges of the cake should shrink from the sides of the pan; and the surface of the cake should spring back when lightly pressed with the finger tip.

One of the most peculiar of all animals is the slow-moving sloth of Central and South America. It is completely arboreal, hanging from branches of trees and seldom descending to the ground. The limbs of the sloth are long and end in claws which enable it to live as it does, upside down. The sloth is related to the armadillo and the anteater.

The first animal mentioned in the dictionary is the aardvark. This South African animal grows to be six feet long, and although its diet consists almost exclusively of ants and termites, it can kill a man with its powerful forelegs and long claws.

Charges 'Poor Example Of Democracy'

I am a man who has served our country for 13 years, in all the cities of the United States, Germany and Korea, and I have never seen democracy practiced like it is here in East Liverpool.

This is the poorest example of a democratic city that it has ever been my misfortune to call home. When I entered the service I fully believed that I was going to fight for a government of the people and for the people. Such is not the case in East Liverpool.

The people's vote means nothing in this town. It's no wonder half of the people do not bother to vote. How many times have we voted this tax out? Still it turns up again because someone here needs money.

Now tell me, who doesn't need money? I do, for my pay check never stretches far enough and still more taxes are shoved on us. How would your minority, who needs this tax, feel if the rest of us got together and said we need money to pay our bills so we will tax you 80 cents on every $100 you make? You can be sure you would raise the roof, especially if you could not see what the money was spent for.

A lot of people feel this tax would be fine if it was used as it should be. But the strangest part of the whole business is that no one can point to exactly where the money went. Why? Is it a big secret?

I read Mr. Parson's letter and I heartily agree with him and some of the others. I also live on Claybourne Ave., or what is called Claybourne Ave. now, I should say, since part of this street has been done away with by people and Carpenter's Run.

So the old Y & O roadbed has become a part of Claybourne Ave. It was always considered a private drive by the city so we could not get any service out here from the street department. But when the city needed somewhere to put the new sewer it dug up our road. After the sewer was put in the road started to sink in spots. After many calls to City Hall we got a few loads of ashes and dirt to fill these places in. Now because of the weather and no care our road is not fit for anyone to drive on. Yet everyone uses it — the men and equipment of Chapin and Chapin, contractors, to say nothing of city vehicles. Even the safety director has drove out here any number of times. Yet they still insist it is a private drive.

It would only need a good scraping the holes filled and even though it is a dirt road it would be better than St. Clair. Another thing, there are four home owners at the end of the road who have no outlet at all because Densmore Alley has been cut off by the new freeway. And it is a city-owned alley that did connect on to our private drive. If any of these people need an ambulance they are out of luck. Still the city admits to owning this alley, but it has neither end opened so it could be used. Yes I know the lower end of Claybourne was oiled, but how long did it last? This is only one of the roads in our town that need fixed, but none of them have had any work to speak of done on them. Why?

We have money to buy places to tear down for parking lots. We have money for Meter Maids who are doing the jobs our police are supposed to do.

I never go into town that I don't see three or four policeman either setting in cruisers or standing around talking. Is that what you call work that makes these Meter Maids necessary?

Now someone says we need a more modern lighting system downtown. Why? Our town is in such poor shape I'd be ashamed to make it any brighter until I did something about the roads. All this needs money you say? Sure it does and every one would be willing to accept this tax if such improvements came about, but I think the tax has had plenty of time to show what could be done with the money and it hasn't. So I guess we will have to pay it until another election comes then vote it out again. But I for one am getting tired of being told to pay this tax when I don't even have enough left of my pay check to pay my own bills.

Why don't the town just secceed from the state? I'm sure someone could make a flag like Russia's. We are being forced to live like an oppressed people.

Ashing Program Draws An Attack

I have lived in Gardendale for 12 years now and I just found out something I never knew before.

We have been fighting to keep our road open down in here because it is our only way in and out of here. The city will ash St. Clair and turn around at the top of Gardendale Ave., then they will go back down town or somewhere else. They could very easily ash the hill (Gardendale Ave.) for us, but they won't. Later they come back and ash. Then they send the scrapper down and take off all the ashes the ash truck puts on.

I say it is no wonder the city has no money if they work that way every place. One crew or another has been up here three times and still all of Gardendale has not been ashed or taken care of. It is so rough and bumpy you can't even get a run on the hill to get out. Probably in another day or two when the snow is about gone they will be back out again to finish the job.

Once again council has enacted the city income tax and everyone is expected to adhere to their wishes. So far no one has refused to do their part. I think it's about time the city adheres to the wishes of its citizens.

When Mr. Goodballet was running for mayor he promised the people that he was going to set up a street improvement program. The city at this time was in no worse shape financially than it is at this present day. But we know often politicians' promises are made to be broken.

I would like to inform Mr. Parsons and all the other good people who live on unimproved streets that Mr. Owen, our service director, informed my husband over the telephone that the city is under no obligation (by law according to Mr. Owen to take care of our unimproved streets.

They want our money but they don't want to do anything for us in return. A committee from Gardendale went to city council a few years back and made the suggestion that we the people of Gardendale keep our tax money and repair our own streets. Council would not hear to this. Again I say the city wants our money but they don't want to do anything for us.

I think they need to get some one in there who really has our city at heart and really knows how to handle our money and knows how to do a job right and not halfways.

MRS. ALBERT J. GARVEY
Canton St., Gardendale

Editor's Note — Queried about the statement above that the city is not obligated to take care of unimproved streets, Owen pointed out that all the street department's revenue comes from the city's share of gasoline tax and auto license fees and state law earmarks it for maintenance of improved streets.

Waving Of Red Flag Denounced

I am writing this in regard to several of the articles I have been reading in The Review lately relative to the income tax issue in East Liverpool.

The tax does not concern me but what does are those few people who are so willing to wave the so-called Red flag.

I have had the opportunity in my life time, as have so many other millions of proud Americans, to fight for our good old Stars and Stripes. And when I read what I have lately in the Letters To The Editor it makes me sick.

Some people don't realize how good they have it here in the good old U.S.A. You have the right to vote again and again, but where that Red flag comes from you don't even get to vote once.

To make these kind of statements openly in Russia they would more than likely be dead or working in a salt mine by now.

Trucker Hurt In Train Crash Fined For Reckless Driving

A New Castle trucker was fined $10 and costs today by Acting Municipal Judge Donald D. Shay after switching his plea to guilty to a reckless operation charge filed by police after his tractor-trailer rig and a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train collided Feb. 24 at the Walnut St. crossing.

Edward Brown, a driver for Mooney Brothers Trucking Co. of New Castle, changed his plea after originally pleading innocent when arraigned March 1.

Brown again appeared without counsel despite two continuances which had been granted to permit him to secure an attorney. Patrolman Sam Hayes, who investigated the case, and Brown testified at the hearing.

In the crash, the rig's tractor struck a nearby home and the trailer, shoved down the track by the impact, tore up 100 feet of spur track. A parked car also was damaged.

Meanwhile, three other motorists were fined a total of $60 and costs, two forfeited bonds and a continuance was granted another.

One Wellsville motorist was fined $25 and costs and another was fined $10 and costs with the fine suspended on charges of reckless operation filed by the State Highway Patrol after their arrest Saturday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Franklyn F. Hubbard, 808 Washington St., drew the fine of $25 and costs after pleading guilty while Richard Vankirk of the same address was fined $10 and costs after pleading no contest.

The patrol charged Hubbard changed lanes without signaling, traveled side by side with Vankirk and then deliberately struck Vankirk's auto while it was stopped.

Vankirk was reckless in changing lanes without signaling, traveled side by side with Hubbard's car "for purposes other than passing" and followed too closely, the patrol said.

Patrolman E. D. Wain told Acting Judge Shay the two drivers were "playing."

Thomas Rowe of Hookstown R. D. 1 also was fined $25 and costs on a speeding charge filed by the patrol. He and a juvenile were cited at 7:30 p. m. Sunday on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. The juvenile was cited into Juvenile Court, Patrolman Wain said.

Lester G. White of Densmore Ave. is due for a hearing Friday at 9 a. m. on a speeding charge. He was cited by the patrol Saturday night for speeding 65 miles an hour on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Charles W. Barnhart of Cleveland forfeited a $32.50 bond on a speeding charge filed by the patrol alleging he traveled 80 miles an hour Saturday night on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

Harold Parrish of Hookstown R. D. 1 also forfeited a similar bond on a speeding charge filed by city police. He was cited late Saturday morning for traveling 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St.

A hearing for Edward Kobulnicky of Bulger, Pa., on a charge of passing on a curve was continued until Tuesday morning. Kobulnicky, cited by the patrol March 2 on Route 30, notified the court he was unable to get his car started this morning.

Police At Lisbon Push Probe In 2 Car Thefts

LISBON — Police continued investigation today of the theft of two autos — one recovered early Sunday — believed to have been taken by the same person.

A 1951 sedan owned by William L. Haney of 5th St., Chester, was found parked on E. Lincoln Way about 7 a. m. by police who said Haney did not realize the auto was taken.

Mrs. Joan Cope of 208 W. Washington St. reported to police at 11 a. m. her 1952 sedan had been stolen. Her license number is L-94-Y.

Trials Slated For Officials In Fund Case

BEAVER — The trial of Harry H. Davis of Industry and Robert L. Caputo of Monaca on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy will be held the last of this week or next week before Judge Morgan H. Sohn.

Davis was director and Caputo, assistant director, of the Beaver County Welfare Department. Both have waived a trial by jury.

The trial was scheduled at the end of trials set this week and next, but since the trial list is fast disappearing, it is possible the Davis - Caputo trial may be held toward the end of this week.

Eleven pleas of guilty were entered this morning and several cases were continued until next term since Atty. John Ray is on a world trip and Atty. Thompson Bradshaw is in the hospital. The trial of Paul Perkins of Midland, charged with malicious mischief, has not come up yet

Davis and Caputo were indicted by the Beaver County Grand Jury Feb. 28 on nine counts of embezzling funds involving $1,963. Both were indicted by the Grand Jury in November on 12 counts of conspiracy and embezzlement involving $7,842.

About $26,150.31 is missing, according to county commissioners, and an audit by Charles J. Loll, Beaver accountant, and the county controller's office.

The pair has signed guilty pleas on 40 counts.

Girl Scouts Observe Anniversary

Twelve hundred attended the 50th anniversary observance of Girl Scouting in America, sponsored by the East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council Sunday afternoon at Westgate School.

The anniversary commemoration began last year when the first phase of the theme "Honor The Past — Serve The Future" was marked with programs dedicated to the founders, and the past and present leaders of the movement.

Emphasis this year is placed on serving, when the scouts will be assisting the children of the community with projects designed to better their lives as future citizens.

A pageant, "The Golden Promise," was presented with each neighborhood participating. Narrators were Linda Carpenter, Anita Auville, Cathy Myers, Jane Pethtel, Kathy Blackburn, Kay Eaton, Marjorie Hughey and Mary Lou Gerbert.

A large trefoil, formed of yellow crepe paper flowers, highlighted platform decorations. This scouting emblem was made by Intermediate Troop 36 of the Grace United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. David Beatty, council president, extended the welcome. The Rev. Thomas C. Clyde, pastor of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and benediction. Miss Betsy Eunson directed the singing.

The Girl Scout program in action was shown in the gymnasium with an arts and crafts display. Each troop had a booth and the leaders and scouts answered queries on the articles.

Included in the display were a group of basketry, many types of jewelry, art paper items, a variety of plaques, unusual flower planters, jewel boxes, pin cushions, dolls, purses, and a scene highlighting the theme, with covered wagons depicting "the past" and missiles denoting "the future."

Mrs. John Koos was program chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. F. Banfield, co-chairman, Mrs. Louis Tobin, Mrs. George Elliott, Mrs. Charles French and Mrs. James Durham. Mrs. Dan Henderson is field director.

Man Reports Theft Of $80

A 55-year-old Shadyside Ave. resident reported to police over the weekend he was robbed of $80 by a woman after being assaulted in the Horn Switch by one of her two male companions.

Ralph E. Lipps told police his wallet containing approximately $80 was taken from his pants pocket early Saturday night while he was lying between two freight cars after being knocked down by an unknown man.

Lipps told officers he had left the City Market on St. Clair Ave., cut through Welch Alley and then walked north on Green Ln. before starting through the freight yard toward Dresden Ave. As he approached some freight cars, he met the woman and two men.

One of the men swung him around and struck him in the face with his fist, knocking him to the ground between two of the freight cars, Lipps said.

The woman took the wallet from his left rear pocket and then continued toward Green Ln. with her companions, he said.

Area Legion Event Draws 125 In Lisbon

LISBON — One hundred and twenty-five attended the 43rd American Legion birthday dinner Saturday evening at the home of John J. Welch Post 275, sponsored by the County Council of the American Legion.

Guests included Ohio Department Commander Chester Stellar and his wife, Doreen, of Creston; Tenth District officers — Commander Sam Seikel of Dover; First Vice Commander Robert Knoble and Second Vice Commander Dwight Bush and their wives.

The first husband and wife team from Canton Post 44, Commander Karl Seckles and his wife Mickey, unit president, also were present.

Dr. James Garstick of Columbiana, County Legion essay chairman, presented county awards to the eight county essay winners who wrote on "My Responsibility as an American Citizen."

Winners were Carol Winegard and Richard Pine, sponsored by Post 290, 9th grade; Mike Jewel, Post 684, and Linda Swanson, Post 290, 10th grade; Brigit O'Farrell, Post 374, and Brooks Weigart, Post 684, 11th grade; and Emil Zeigler, Post 684, and Becky Way, Post 290, 12th grade.

"These students did an excellent job and we think the future of America will be in good hands," Garstick said. John Herman Jr. of Salem conducted a memorial for the dead.

Stellars sketched the formation of the Legion.

Stellars complimented the essay winners, saying they represented the youth in America today and the future of America tomorrow.

Bert Keck of Post 736 in Glenmoor acted as master of ceremonies.

Man Held At Jail Foiled In Attempt To Hang Himself

A city man was taken to Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown for examination Saturday night after he allegedly attempted to hang himself with his belt while held in City Jail, police reported.

He was identified as Bernard Holt of the Thompson Hotel, who, police said, attempted to hang himself about 7:02 p. m. Saturday. Later, he attempted to snatch the guns from two officers who took him to City Hospital for treatment, police said.

A cellmate notified Lt. Thomas A. Walker that Holt had attempted to hang himself with his belt, police said. Lt. Walker and Patrolman Paul A. Burson entered the cellblock and found Holt prone on the floor, officers said. His belt was hanging open on the bars, police said.

He was taken to the hospital for treatment. While there, he attempted to grab the guns of Patrolmen Charles E. (Bill) Tice and Kent Garvey and tried to bang his head on the walls and cabinets in the emergency room, officers said.

Chief Americo Radeschi said Holt had been jailed for creating a disturbance at his home, but no charges had been filed.

Placed in a straitjacket, Holt was returned to the jail. Later, he was taken to the Youngstown hospital by Patrolmen Tice, Paul Blevins and K. J. Montgomery, police said.

Chester Requests Aid On Sewage Plant Job

Chester will receive top priority for a Federal grant for a proposed sewage disposal system, engineers report, and Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, Saturday mailed three copies of a resolution for application for funds.

The copies were mailed to A. R. Todd & Association, Wheeling engineers, who will in turn send them to the Public Service Commission in Charleston.

A representative of the firm contacted Mayor Ray Collins by telephone last week and said that Chester will receive top priority. He asked the mayor to sign three more copies since the earlier copies mailed to the engineers could not be found.

Council passed a resolution Dec. 6 requesting federal funds. The city has been turned down several times before in its application for the funds.

Musicians Get Nod To Enter State Contest

Two East Liverpool soloists and a clarinet quartet qualified for the state finals in the district solo and ensemble contest Saturday at Canton McKinley High School.

Earning a place in the finals of the Ohio Music Education Association April 14 in Columbus were Joe Judge, cornetist, and Darrell Locke, pianist, and the clarinet quartet of Ron Jarvis, Ted Waters, Gary Wynn and Karlene Reed.

Receiving superior ratings in Class B work were Sue Smith and Patty Hall, pianists, and the woodwind quintet of Mickey Todd, John Hasenstab, Charles Padgett, Tom Futhey and Charlotte Clark.

The only difference between Class A and Class B is in the degree of difficulty, Vincent L. Maola, East Liverpool High School instrumental supervisor, said. Only those receiving superior ratings for Class A work are eligible for the state contest.

Winning excellent ratings were Waters, clarinet; Jarvis, oboe, and Mary Ann Rogers, Sue Ann Rogers and Virginia Beck, pianists.

Salineville Students Get Superior Ratings

For the first time in seven years, instrumental students from Salineville High School received superior ratings in a district solo and ensemble contest and won the honor of competing in a state contest April 14 at Ohio State University at Columbus.

Some entries from Wellsville High School also won top ratings in the district contest held Saturday at Canton McKinley High School.

Charles Temple, Salineville band director, said superior ratings were won by Delbert Williams, tuba soloist, and Paulette Kerr, Darlene Irvine and Marianne Tolson, clarinet trio. This is the first time since 1953 anyone has won the privilege of competing on the state level, he said. Salineville competed in class "A."

Theodore Koenig, Wellsville band director, said a clarinet quartet, including Doris Nelson, Pat Davidson, Pete Commarata and Judy Rose, won a superior and will be in the state contest. Suzanne Culp, saxophone soloist, won an excellent rating. Wellsville also competed in class "A."

New York Opens Hospital Probe As 6 Babies Die

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Salt in a sugar can was the possible killer of six babies in a city-owned hospital, and 10 others were made ill by a salt-saturated formula, a hospital spokesman said today.

Doctors worked to save four who were in critical condition.

The hospital spokesman said salt was a definite possibility as the cause of the six deaths. State and local officials were investigating.

The salt apparently was used by mistake in place of sugar in the infants' feeding formula at Binghamton General Hospital.

A licensed practical nurse, Lillie Colvin, 29, who refilled the sugar container last Tuesday for the formula room was suspended by the hospital and questioned by Dist. Atty. Stephen Smyk.

No charge was placed against her, however, and she was not held. She said she was positive she had filled the can from a sugar container. She had been with the hospital as a practical nurse for about three months.

Another nurse who made herself a cup of instant coffee discovered table salt in the can in the formula room.

Pediatricians said an overdose of salt could upset the balance in the body and cause heart failure in a very young child.

Red Cross Continues Door-To-Door Appeal

The two-day canvass of area homes, launched Sunday, was continuing today in the Local Red Cross drive.

Some 252 volunteers are taking part in this phase of the campaign, with drive leaders hoping that most will turn in their reports at headquarters by 4:30 this afternoon.

The House-to-House Division, headed by Mrs. Myer Alpern, has a quota of $1,900. The over-all campaign goal is $16,431.

Team captains of the 17 residential districts, into which the division is divided, met Saturday afternoon at headquarters to receive supplies and instructions and to hear a talk by Campaign Chairman Harold Sneddon.

Sneddon stressed that a "Thorough and strong effort" on the part of each worker would be required if the division's quota was to be reacted. He also reviewed the contents of each worker's "kit", urging that the "facts" booklet therein be studied, saying, "this booklet will tell you what happens to your Red Cross dollar, exactly how it is spent; and it will give you true facts with which to answer any criticisms."

He pointed out that the annual campaign was the only source of income for the East Liverpool chapter and that "it's continued maintenance depends entirely on the success of this drive". As a demonstration of the need for Red Cross in the community, Sneddon pointed to the "256 persons who learned to swim, 73 who were taught first aid and 20 who received nursing instructions. Who can say how many lives may be saved because Red Cross was here this year?" He also praised the work of the chapter's "Gray Ladies" Corps, citing "the 133 women who were trained this year in this volunteer service."

Mrs. Alpern, who presided at the Saturday session, announced the addition of 27 workers in various districts, whose names were inadvertently omitted from previous announcements. This brings the total number of volunteers in the division to 252, the largest division in the current campaign.

Names added include one entire district, that of Radio Heights, with Mrs. Leonard Kupchinsky as captain. Her workers in that area are Mrs. James Lowe, Mrs. Bud Barber, Mrs. Steven Mick, Mrs. George Bosworth, Mrs. Charles Deshler and Miss Linda Kupchinsky.

Four have been added in the Neville School district — Mrs. Floyd Murray, Miss Barbara Eddy, Mrs. Sylvia Simmons and Miss Jeannette Bell.

Another four workers in the Park Blvd. district include Mrs. William Kyle, Miss Barbara Hall, Mrs. Carl Metz Jr. and Mrs. William Sturgeon.

Miss Carolyn Edgell will serve in the downtown district and Miss Kay Hocking in the LaCroft district. Ten workers have been added in the Pleasant Heights district Mrs. Paul Spangler, Mrs. Lynn Brown, Mrs. George Hercules, Barbara Brown, Carolyn Conkle, Carolyn Steele, Susan Dotson, Susan Greenwood, Lisby Neville and Patty Powell.

British Writer Dies

LONDON (AP) — Sir Philip Gibbs, 84, journalist and author, died Saturday. During his long career Gibbs was associated with various newspapers, including the Daily Mail, the Daily Express and the Daily Chronicle.

more than 100 persons were interviewed.

The sheriff said the husband confessed the killing at the County Jail after lengthy questioning based on his reactions to a lie detector test given earlier in the day. Two other men also took lie detector tests, administered by experts from the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at London.

Boyd allegedly has admitted that he and his wife, the mother of their 11-month-old daughter, drove to the deserted lane to talk, when the car had a flat tire.

During an argument over her attentions to other men and while he was repairing the tire, he threw the handle of the jack at her, then beat her with it, according to his confession.

Later, he said, he checked her pulse and breathing and noted none. Then, he said, he got a shotgun from the car and shot her in the head as she lay about 10 yards down the hillside from the lane, where he had dragged her.

Boyd was arraigned Nov. 22 before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the first degree murder count. He pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing. Then he was taken back to County Jail at Lisbon, as no bond can be allowed in Ohio on a first degree murder charge.

The indictment alleging first degree muder was returned by the January Grand Jury.

8 Take Postal Test

NEW WATERFORD — Eight persons, the same number that had made application, took the examination for the position of postmaster here Saturday morning at the Youngstown Post Office. The results will not be made known for at least six weeks. Arch Brinker has been serving as acting postmaster for about a year.

Musicians Get Nod To Enter State Contest

Two East Liverpool soloists and a clarinet quartet qualified for the state finals in the district solo and ensemble contest Saturday at Canton McKinley High School.

Earning a place in the finals of the Ohio Music Education Association April 14 in Columbus were Joe Judge, cornetist, and Darrell Locke, pianist, and the clarinet quartet of Ron Jarvis, Ted Waters, Gary Wynn and Karlene Reed.

Receiving superior ratings in Class B work were Sue Smith and Patty Hall, pianists, and the woodwind quintet of Mickey Todd, John Hasenstab, Charles Padgett, Tom Futhey and Charlotte Clark.

The only difference between Class A and Class B is in the degree of difficulty, Vincent L. Maola, East Liverpool High School instrumental supervisor, said. Only those receiving superior ratings for Class A work are eligible for the state contest.

Winning excellent ratings were Waters, clarinet; Jarvis, oboe, and Mary Ann Rogers, Sue Ann Rogers and Virginia Beck, pianists.

Salineville Students Get Superior Ratings

For the first time in seven years, instrumental students from Salineville High School received superior ratings in a district solo and ensemble contest and won the honor of competing in a state contest April 14 at Ohio State University at Columbus.

Some entries from Wellsville High School also won top ratings in the district contest held Saturday at Canton McKinley High School.

Charles Temple, Salineville band director, said superior ratings were won by Delbert Williams, tuba soloist, and Paulette Kerr, Darlene Irvine and Marianne Tolson, clarinet trio. This is the first time since 1953 anyone has won the privilege of competing on the state level, he said. Salineville competed in class "A."

Theodore Koenig, Wellsville band director, said a clarinet quartet, including Doris Nelson, Pat Davidson, Pete Commarata and Judy Rose, won a superior and will be in the state contest. Suzanne Culp, saxophone soloist, won an excellent rating. Wellsville also competed in class "A."

New York Opens Hospital Probe As 6 Babies Die

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Salt in a sugar can was the possible killer of six babies in a city-owned hospital, and 10 others were made ill by a salt-saturated formula, a hospital spokesman said today.

Doctors worked to save four who were in critical condition.

The hospital spokesman said salt was a definite possibility as the cause of the six deaths. State and local officials were investigating.

The salt apparently was used by mistake in place of sugar in the infants' feeding formula at Binghamton General Hospital.

A licensed practical nurse, Lillie Colvin, 29, who refilled the sugar container last Tuesday for the formula room was suspended by the hospital and questioned by Dist. Atty. Stephen Smyk.

No charge was placed against her, however, and she was not held. She said she was positive she had filled the can from a sugar container. She had been with the hospital as a practical nurse for about three months.

Another nurse who made herself a cup of instant coffee discovered table salt in the can in the formula room.

Pediatricians said an overdose of salt could upset the balance in the body and cause heart failure in a very young child.

Red Cross Continues Door-To-Door Appeal

The two-day canvass of area homes, launched Sunday, was continuing today in the Local Red Cross drive.

Some 252 volunteers are taking part in this phase of the campaign, with drive leaders hoping that most will turn in their reports at headquarters by 4:30 this afternoon.

The House-to-House Division, headed by Mrs. Myer Alpern, has a quota of $1,900. The over-all campaign goal is $16,431.

Team captains of the 17 residential districts, into which the division is divided, met Saturday afternoon at headquarters to receive supplies and instructions and to hear a talk by Campaign Chairman Harold Sneddon.

Sneddon stressed that a "Thorough and strong effort" on the part of each worker would be required if the division's quota was to be reacted. He also reviewed the contents of each worker's "kit", urging that the "facts" booklet therein be studied, saying, "this booklet will tell you what happens to your Red Cross dollar, exactly how it is spent; and it will give you true facts with which to answer any criticisms."

He pointed out that the annual campaign was the only source of income for the East Liverpool chapter and that "it's continued maintenance depends entirely on the success of this drive". As a demonstration of the need for Red Cross in the community, Sneddon pointed to the "256 persons who learned to swim, 73 who were taught first aid and 20 who received nursing instructions. Who can say how many lives may be saved because Red Cross was here this year?" He also praised the work of the chapter's "Gray Ladies" Corps, citing "the 133 women who were trained this year in this volunteer service."

Mrs. Alpern, who presided at the Saturday session, announced the addition of 27 workers in various districts, whose names were inadvertently omitted from previous announcements. This brings the total number of volunteers in the division to 252, the largest division in the current campaign.

Names added include one entire district, that of Radio Heights, with Mrs. Leonard Kupchinsky as captain. Her workers in that area are Mrs. James Lowe, Mrs. Bud Barber, Mrs. Steven Mick, Mrs. George Bosworth, Mrs. Charles Deshler and Miss Linda Kupchinsky.

Four have been added in the Neville School district — Mrs. Floyd Murray, Miss Barbara Eddy, Mrs. Sylvia Simmons and Miss Jeannette Bell.

Another four workers in the Park Blvd. district include Mrs. William Kyle, Miss Barbara Hall, Mrs. Carl Metz Jr. and Mrs. William Sturgeon.

Miss Carolyn Edgell will serve in the downtown district and Miss Kay Hocking in the LaCroft district. Ten workers have been added in the Pleasant Heights district Mrs. Paul Spangler, Mrs. Lynn Brown, Mrs. George Hercules, Barbara Brown, Carolyn Conkle, Carolyn Steele, Susan Dotson, Susan Greenwood, Lisby Neville and Patty Powell.

British Writer Dies

LONDON (AP) — Sir Philip Gibbs, 84, journalist and author, died Saturday. During his long career Gibbs was associated with various newspapers, including the Daily Mail, the Daily Express and the Daily Chronicle.

more than 100 persons were interviewed.

The sheriff said the husband confessed the killing at the County Jail after lengthy questioning based on his reactions to a lie detector test given earlier in the day. Two other men also took lie detector tests, administered by experts from the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at London.

Boyd allegedly has admitted that he and his wife, the mother of their 11-month-old daughter, drove to the deserted lane to talk, when the car had a flat tire.

During an argument over her attentions to other men and while he was repairing the tire, he threw the handle of the jack at her, then beat her with it, according to his confession.

Later, he said, he checked her pulse and breathing and noted none. Then, he said, he got a shotgun from the car and shot her in the head as she lay about 10 yards down the hillside from the lane, where he had dragged her.

Boyd was arraigned Nov. 22 before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the first degree murder count. He pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing. Then he was taken back to County Jail at Lisbon, as no bond can be allowed in Ohio on a first degree murder charge.

The indictment alleging first degree muder was returned by the January Grand Jury.

8 Take Postal Test

NEW WATERFORD — Eight persons, the same number that had made application, took the examination for the position of postmaster here Saturday morning at the Youngstown Post Office. The results will not be made known for at least six weeks. Arch Brinker has been serving as acting postmaster for about a year.

"It could have been worse," Mrs. Dave Adams, a neighbor, said. "Just 15 minutes before Levron's cousin, his wife and their baby had been visiting.

"They probably would have been killed, too, if the crash had been just a few minutes earlier."

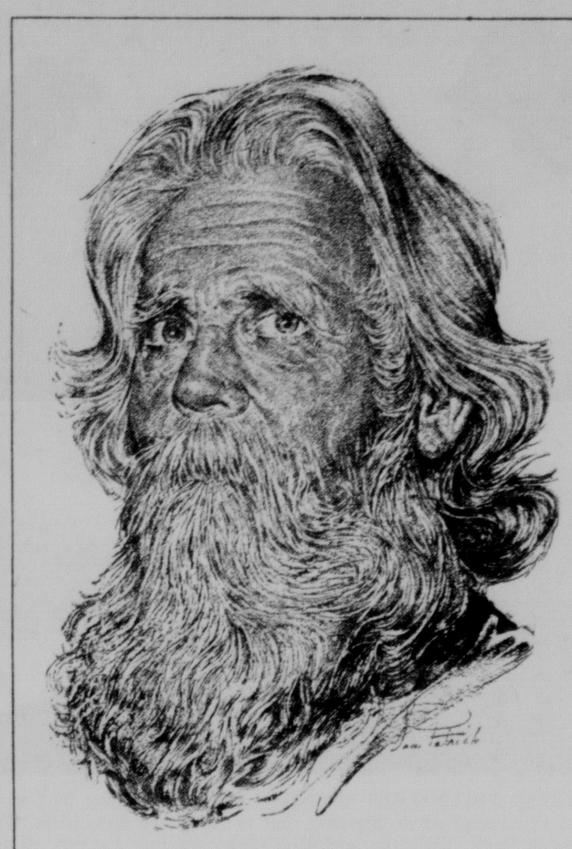
They Walked With Christ



JOSEPH

". . . the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost."

—Matthew 1:20

Little of Joseph's personal history is told in the New Testament. He is described as a "just man," who resided in Nazareth. He was of the house and the lineage of David.

We know him as a quiet man, who understood and believed the message of the angel who warned him of danger to the Infant Jesus, and kept him constantly alert to the snares woven in the minds of the Child's enemies.

He comes to us in the role of the protective father, the tireless watcher over his Charge, the careful provider of His early physical needs.

Scriptural history of Joseph ends with the account of the Holy Family's journey to Jerusalem for the Passover, when Jesus was 12 years of age.

But it is evident by implication that he died before the trial and crucifixion, since Jesus upon the Cross gave the care of His mother into the keeping of the beloved disciple.

There is an apocryphal story told of Joseph and his carpenter's shop, where he is said to have taught Jesus his trade.

He was showing the young Boy how to carve wood with the grain. Jesus watched closely and then duplicated the operation with understanding and skill.

"You can always know a wood by its grain," Joseph told Him. "And knowing the grain, you can mould it to the form you wish."

"It is like the nature of man. Know this, and you can anticipate his thoughts, and direct these as you wish, if you have a reason that is good."

Jesus understood this parable, the story goes. He told Joseph:

"I am aware of the Time ahead. And I will meet it."

They Walked With Christ

JOSEPH

". . . the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost."

—Matthew 1:20

Little of Joseph's personal history is told in the New Testament. He is described as a "just man," who resided in Nazareth. He was of the house and the lineage of David.

We know him as a quiet man, who understood and believed the message of the angel who warned him of danger to the Infant Jesus, and kept him constantly alert to the snares woven in the minds of the Child's enemies.

He comes to us in the role of the protective father, the tireless watcher over his Charge, the careful provider of His early physical needs.

Scriptural history of Joseph ends with the account of the Holy Family's journey to Jerusalem for the Passover, when Jesus was 12 years of age.

But it is evident by implication that he died before the trial and crucifixion, since Jesus upon the Cross gave the care of His mother into the keeping of the beloved disciple.

There is an apocryphal story told of Joseph and his carpenter's shop, where he is said to have taught Jesus his trade.

He was showing the young Boy how to carve wood with the grain. Jesus watched closely and then duplicated the operation with understanding and skill.

"You can always know a wood by its grain," Joseph told Him. "And knowing the grain, you can mould it to the form you wish."

"It is like the nature of man. Know this, and you can anticipate his thoughts, and direct these as you wish, if you have a reason that is good."

Jesus understood this parable, the story goes. He told Joseph:

"I am aware of the Time ahead. And I will meet it."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 24. My husband is 29. We've been married for three years. Glenn was always moody but now his moods scare me out of my wits. He sulks for days, and then for no reason he becomes overly cheerful and generous and wants to give the world the shirt off his back.

Last week we were watching a popular TV personality interview a prominent right-wing gentleman. The interviewer was making his guest look pretty ridiculous. My husband got mad and proceeded to smash the TV set with a hammer.

I've begged him to see a doctor but he says he's not sick. He claims the world is sick and that he is well. I actually fear for my health and safety. I have the feeling if I don't get away from him you may be reading about me in the newspapers. Please tell me what to do.—TERRIFIED.

Dear Terrified: Give your husband a choice. Tell him he can go to a doctor and talk about his emotional fluctuations or you will go to a lawyer and talk about separate maintenance.

No woman should live with a man who scares her "out of her wits." Glenn's emotional peaks and valleys are symptoms of mental illness.

For The Record

Dear Ann: I had lunch with a friend today. She brought along three columns of yours which she had clipped from the newspaper. They are all anti-mother-in-law.

Please, Ann, straighten her out. I happen to know that you are not a mother-in-law hater. My friend insists you are. And furthermore, she brought along the "evidence" to prove it.

Certainly Ann, you are aware that the human heart has room for all kinds of love. You know that a man can love his wife, his mother and his child at the same time, but in different ways. I know, too, as you must, that there are jealous and domineering mothers-in-law who are trouble makers but some wives can be jealous and domineering and make plenty of trouble, too.

Please, Ann, set the record straight. There must be others who also have the wrong impression. Thank you.—HELEN.

-:-

Dear Helen: Anti-mother-in-law????? Who, me? Never! Particularly now that I am about to become one!

Successful parents raise their children to be independent — and by that I mean self-sufficient, self-supporting and independent of THEM.

In-laws can be wonderful, and many of them are. But the acid test of a good in-law is one who leaves married children alone and allows them to make their own decisions and lead their own lives.

Semper Fidelis?

Dear Ann: I've been going steady with this terrific guy for almost a year. He joined the Marines four moths ago.

We took an oath to be faithful to each other. I've kept my word but I'm not so sure about him. His letters started out to be very tender and full of love but they are cooling off a lot. This past month he only wrote once. Yesterday I received a postcard which started, "Hi Sis!"

My mother says I should take the hint and stop writing to him every day. She also thinks I should date others. I'm so in love with him I can't see straight. I'm 17 and old enough to know my own mind. Please tell me how to keep this love alive—TOWNIE.

Dear Townie: Your mother gave you excellent advice. Take it. The best way to keep love alive is to give it freedom to keep people honest. Sometimes they only make them better liars.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

4 Injured In 3-Way Route 18 Mishap Remain Hospitalized

George R. Hackner, 61, of Hookstown R. D. 1 is in "good" condition today at Washington (Pa.) Hospital with injuries suffered when a bus and flatbed truck collided Saturday about 6:45 a. m. on Route 18, 12 miles east of East Liverpool.

Kay L. Briggs, 27, of Burgettstown, the bus driver is in "fair" condition at the same hospital. Hackner who was also on the bus, suffered a possible fracture of the ribs and pelvis while Briggs suffered a compound fracture of both thighs and legs.

Detained at Mercy Hospital and reported seriously injured were Leo Venegaz, 31, and Donald Beckett, 25, both of Langeloth. Venegaz suffered a fracture of the right hip and ankle and Beckett has contusions and lacerations of both hands.

At least two other bus passengers were treated and released at Washington Hospital. Glennie Hicks, 34, of Slovan suffered a leg injury and William Sentipal, 21, of Burgettstown R. D. 1, suffered a laceration of both lips and had two teeth knocked loose. Several more of the 37 bus riders planned to be checked by family doctors.

Police said the bus going north was passing a disabled tractor-trailer when the bus was hit by a flatbed truck driven south by Paul Susich Jr., 21, of 28-A Midland Heights, Midland.

Police said Susich saw the bus passing the semi-truck and he hit his brakes, but his truck went out of control on the wet pavement, throwing the rear end around and piercing the front of the bus for about six feet. The driver and two passengers on the bus were pinned in and a cutting torch was used to remove them.

The passengers were on a bus owned by Gradison Bus Co. of Burgettstown, on their way to work at the Jones & Laughlin plant in Aliquippa.

Police said the tractor - trailer, headed north, was broken down on Route 18 just beyond the intersection of Route 30, partially on the road and on the east berm. The accident was located near a curve and the bus was going upgrade.

There was about $3,000 damage to the bus and $150 to the flatbed truck, police estimated. The reports of the accident were turned over the police barracks near Beaver Falls since the accident occurred in its territory. It is investigating.

Youth Fined $15 On Gun Charges

An 18-year-old Stratton youth was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of discharging firearms in the city limits.

Richard Daniel Carouthers admitted firing the .22-caliber gun into the river from the foot of Leonard St., but claimed he was shooting at bottles and other floating objects, and not at ducks, as alleged by police.

Police arrested Carouthers and a 17-year-old companion at 5:48 p. m. Friday after receiving a report from a West End resident about the shooting.

The resident told Lt. Thomas Walker and Patrolmen Kenneth Mooney and Kent Garvey the two were shooting at ducks.

The officers said they saw a duck floating in the river and summoned a fire boat to retrieve it, but a passing tow made it impossible to recover.

4 Injured In 3-Way Route 18 Mishap Remain Hospitalized

George R. Hackner, 61, of Hookstown R. D. 1 is in "good" condition today at Washington (Pa.) Hospital with injuries suffered when a bus and flatbed truck collided Saturday about 6:45 a. m. on Route 18, 12 miles east of East Liverpool.

Kay L. Briggs, 27, of Burgettstown, the bus driver is in "fair" condition at the same hospital. Hackner who was also on the bus, suffered a possible fracture of the ribs and pelvis while Briggs suffered a compound fracture of both thighs and legs.

Detained at Mercy Hospital and reported seriously injured were Leo Venegaz, 31, and Donald Beckett, 25, both of Langeloth. Venegaz suffered a fracture of the right hip and ankle and Beckett has contusions and lacerations of both hands.

At least two other bus passengers were treated and released at Washington Hospital. Glennie Hicks, 34, of Slovan suffered a leg injury and William Sentipal, 21, of Burgettstown R. D. 1, suffered a laceration of both lips and had two teeth knocked loose. Several more of the 37 bus riders planned to be checked by family doctors.

Police said the bus going north was passing a disabled tractor-trailer when the bus was hit by a flatbed truck driven south by Paul Susich Jr., 21, of 28-A Midland Heights, Midland.

Police said Susich saw the bus passing the semi-truck and he hit his brakes, but his truck went out of control on the wet pavement, throwing the rear end around and piercing the front of the bus for about six feet. The driver and two passengers on the bus were pinned in and a cutting torch was used to remove them.

The passengers were on a bus owned by Gradison Bus Co. of Burgettstown, on their way to work at the Jones & Laughlin plant in Aliquippa.

Police said the tractor - trailer, headed north, was broken down on Route 18 just beyond the intersection of Route 30, partially on the road and on the east berm. The accident was located near a curve and the bus was going upgrade.

There was about $3,000 damage to the bus and $150 to the flatbed truck, police estimated. The reports of the accident were turned over the police barracks near Beaver Falls since the accident occurred in its territory. It is investigating.

Youth Fined $15 On Gun Charges

An 18-year-old Stratton youth was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to a charge of discharging firearms in the city limits.

Richard Daniel Carouthers admitted firing the .22-caliber gun into the river from the foot of Leonard St., but claimed he was shooting at bottles and other floating objects, and not at ducks, as alleged by police.

Police arrested Carouthers and a 17-year-old companion at 5:48 p. m. Friday after receiving a report from a West End resident about the shooting.

The resident told Lt. Thomas Walker and Patrolmen Kenneth Mooney and Kent Garvey the two were shooting at ducks.

The officers said they saw a duck floating in the river and summoned a fire boat to retrieve it, but a passing tow made it impossible to recover.

Tips Offered For Painting Of Radiators

CHICAGO — Heating tip of the week: an oil base paint is better for use on radiators than paint such as aluminum or bronze.

According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, the kind of paint on your radiators affects the heat output. Metallic paint reduces the total radiant output by about 10 per cent or more.

The reason for this is that the metallic particles in the paint act as reflectors which retard the flow of heat in the same manner as metallic reflective insulations.

It does not matter if an undercoat of paint is metallic — the final coat is the determining factor. Also, it makes no appreciable difference what color the oil paint is, since the output variation from color to color is slight.

The efficiency of a radiator can be increased further, says the bureau, if a sheet of reflecting metal is placed behind it, not in contact with the radiator. This does two things: it retards the flow of heat from the radiator to the wall, thus increasing the amount of heat available to the room, and it reflects this useful heat into the room.

Some people think that no paint at all beyond the factory's prime coat is the best policy for radiators or hydronic baseboards, but the fact is that oil base paints of any color do not reduce heating efficiency.

It is therefore highly practical to paint all radiators and hydronic radiant baseboards to match the decor of the room.

Sun Deck Will Provide Outdoor Living Touch

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

If your home does not have the "outdoor living" atmosphere you have been hearing so much about, you can achieve it with the addition of a sun deck.

It may be built adjacent to the house or in conjunction with the carport or garage; on the ground or on stilts; simple or elaborate as a family's needs and resources dictate.

And where outdoor living already is a part of the home's over-all architectural scheme, it can be incorporated, such as a sun deck adjoining a swimming pool.

Solid lumber has many virtues as a good material for a sun deck. It can be used for the decking itself, for the supports, for wind screens and for the roof, if required.

While some persons prefer that the sun deck be just that, completely exposed to the sun at all times, others want a partial roof where they can take advantage of shade.

The placement of the sun deck and the incorporation of protective screens and the like depend upon three factors: existing landscaping, property lines and the direction of the sun's rays and prevailing winds.

Perhaps the windward side of the deck should be sheltered. Protection can be achieved via a distinctive lumber screen along the windward side of the deck.

By using a latticework design, vertical or horizontal louvers, or a basket weave for the screen, you can get protection without totally cutting off the supply of light and air.

The contour of the land often determines whether the sun deck should be raised off the ground.

On sloping terrain, a raised sun deck is an easy way of providing a flat surface where none naturally exists. If the sun deck is not to be raised, however, the Western Pine Association suggests that the wood be thoroughly treated with a "penta" (pentachlorophenol) preservative wherever it is to come into direct contact with the ground.

From a decorative point of view, there are a variety of decking installations which may be chosen for a sun deck.

Decking may be installed flat, on end, in parallel lines, diagonally, in a herringbone pattern or in a parquet-like design. The latter may be created by using squares of 2-by-4s alternating in checkerboard fashion over a foundation of 2-by-4 strips. Further variety may be achieved by building a series of decks on different levels, each devoted to a particular activity.

Care Is Required In Using Varnish

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I am going to remove the old finish from some furniture and then refinish it with gloss varnish.

I have had considerable success in the past with removing old finishes, but I then used paint for the new coat. I understand that varnishing is a lot more difficult. Is there any advice you can give me?

Answer: Yes, varnishing requires more care than painting. The trick is to get the varnish to flow smoothly across the surface of the wood.

Dip the brush only a third of its bristle length, lower it to the stock gently and draw it across in long, slow brush strokes. Raise the brush before you stop its movement.

In doing chairs and tables, turn them upside down and do the legs, stretchers, etc. Turn them right-side up and do the tops and outside surfaces last. Three coats will give a good result, sanding with a very fine grade of paper between each coat.

Dust is the big bugaboo when using varnish. Take every precaution to keep it off the wood before you start and off the varnish as you continue with the job. Avoid stirring up dust in the room.

Air Force Increases Quotas For Program

T.Sgt. James A. Lee, recruiter at the City Hall, said the Air Force has increased its quotas for the new prior service program.

There are openings in the majority of the Air Force technical schools. Several electronic schools throughout the country now show vacancies for those people who have served in the Air Force or any other service branch in the recent past.

A new "Needed Skill List" has been received by Sgt. Lee. This list indicates the career fields for which the Air Force has the greatest need.

Further information on school assignments may be had by calling Sgt. Lee at FU. 6-6181 or writing direct.

Paneled Wall Can Serve In Varied Ways

PORTLAND, Ore. — Who but people lacking imagination would ever design a wall that was just a wall?

In this day and age, a wall can be everything in addition to a wall — and usually is.

For instance, a wall can be a storage center. It can be a dining room buffet. It can be hi-fi or television set. It can be a refreshment bar.

And the delightful thing about it is that these multi-use walls are sneaky about their dual purpose. Until you've looked, you never know what's behind that inscrutable, ordinary - looking wall.

Take the case of a handsome living room fireplace wall luxuriously paneled in tongue-and-groove west coast hemlock. To the casual observer, it looks only like a handsome wood paneled wall. But his host steps up to the wall, touches a section of it, and — presto — there's the television set. Really, it was there all the time, but neatly concealed behind a door cut in the paneling.

Another section of paneling might open to reveal the hi-fi turntable or a cupboard for card tables.

Anything you want can be built into a wood - paneled wall and it will keep its secret if the cabinet doors are designed to match the paneling.

Tongue - and - groove hemlock is excellent for such design because the joints between the panel boards can be made to correspond with the joints of the doors. The only giveaway might be a slight horizontal line at the top and bottom of each cabinet door, and these are barely discernible.

The tongue - and - groove material for the doors can be put together with glue, and a spline inserted top and bottom in each door will hold them firm, eliminating all danger of warp or swelling. Or, the tongue-and-groove panels can be nailed to Z-shaped bracing on the door's back.

To avoid visible hardware, the disappearing cabinet doors can be fitted with touch latches that open and close when finger pressure is applied.

Any type and size of wall can be designed in this manner, providing a myriad of storage compartments for anything needed with the added advantage of leaving wall surfaces chic and uncluttered in appearance.

For the small house, and for home owners who prefer a quiet, restful background for their rooms, this type of design is ideal.

In doing chairs and tables, turn them upside down and do the legs, stretchers, etc. Turn them right-side up and do the tops and outside surfaces last. Three coats will give a good result, sanding with a very fine grade of paper between each coat.

Dust is the big bugaboo when using varnish. Take every precaution to keep it off the wood before you start and off the varnish as you continue with the job. Avoid stirring up dust in the room.

Air Force Increases Quotas For Program

T.Sgt. James A. Lee, recruiter at the City Hall, said the Air Force has increased its quotas for the new prior service program.

There are openings in the majority of the Air Force technical schools. Several electronic schools throughout the country now show vacancies for those people who have served in the Air Force or any other service branch in the recent past.

A new "Needed Skill List" has been received by Sgt. Lee. This list indicates the career fields for which the Air Force has the greatest need.

Further information on school assignments may be had by calling Sgt. Lee at FU. 6-6181 or writing direct.

Air Officer Named

ETAIN AIR BASE, France (AP)—Lt. Col. Paul E. Hoover, 42, of Columbus, Ohio, has been named to succeed Col. Albert B. Line as commander of the 7121st Tactical Wing here. Col. Line has been re-assigned as director of operations with the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus.

Paneled Wall Can Serve In Varied Ways

PORTLAND, Ore. — Who but people lacking imagination would ever design a wall that was just a wall?

In this day and age, a wall can be everything in addition to a wall — and usually is.

For instance, a wall can be a storage center. It can be a dining room buffet. It can be hi-fi or television set. It can be a refreshment bar.

And the delightful thing about it is that these multi-use walls are sneaky about their dual purpose. Until you've looked, you never know what's behind that inscrutable, ordinary - looking wall.

Take the case of a handsome living room fireplace wall luxuriously paneled in tongue-and-groove west coast hemlock. To the casual observer, it looks only like a handsome wood paneled wall. But his host steps up to the wall, touches a section of it, and — presto — there's the television set. Really, it was there all the time, but neatly concealed behind a door cut in the paneling.

Another section of paneling might open to reveal the hi-fi turntable or a cupboard for card tables.

Anything you want can be built into a wood - paneled wall and it will keep its secret if the cabinet doors are designed to match the paneling.

Tongue - and - groove hemlock is excellent for such design because the joints between the panel boards can be made to correspond with the joints of the doors. The only giveaway might be a slight horizontal line at the top and bottom of each cabinet door, and these are barely discernible.

The tongue - and - groove material for the doors can be put together with glue, and a spline inserted top and bottom in each door will hold them firm, eliminating all danger of warp or swelling. Or, the tongue-and-groove panels can be nailed to I-shaped bracing on the door's back.

To avoid visible hardware, the disappearing cabinet doors can be fitted with touch latches that open and close when finger pressure is applied.

Any type and size of wall can be designed in this manner, providing a myriad of storage compartments for anything needed with the added advantage of leaving wall surfaces chic and uncluttered in appearance.

For the small house, and for home owners who prefer a quiet, restful background for their rooms, this type of design is ideal.

2-Way Crash On City Street Hurts Woman

A 24-year-old Holmes County woman was injured Saturday at 10:38 p. m. when her husband's halted auto was struck from the rear on Dresden Ave. at Webber Way, police reported.

She is Mrs. Thelma Ferguson of Nashville, a passenger in a 1961 auto driven by her husband William Ferguson, 24, which was struck from the rear by a 1956 sedan operated by Lawrence A. Little, 36, of Main St., Wellsville.

Mrs. Ferguson was treated at City Hospital for a possible whiplash injury of the neck. Her husband also was examined for a possible neck injury.

Ferguson told police he was halted for a traffic light when his auto was struck from the rear. Little, traveling north about 15 miles an hour, said he was unable to halt in time. He was cited for failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

He forfeited a $32.50 bond today in Municipal Court.

Another motorist was cited on the same charge following a collision Saturday at 11:46 p. m. on E. 3rd St. at Walnut St., police said.

He is Herman Brown, 39, of 528 Midland, cited after his 1961 two -door sedan hit the rear of a 1961 four-door operated by David Pugh, 310 Virginia Ave., Chester.

Pugh told police he was turning off E. 3rd onto Walnut when his car was struck. Brown's auto skidded 25 to 30 feet before the impact, officers said.

Brown pleaded guilty before Acting Municipal Judge Donald Shay and was fined $15 and costs.

A mishap at E. 6th St. and Crook Alley at 2:15 p. m. Saturday damaged a 1962 four-door sedan driven by Elizabeth K. Emerson, 1953 St. Clair Ave., and a 1956 sedan operated by James L. Pritchett, 23, of 428 Sugar St., officers said.

The woman was turning from Crook Alley to E. 6th St. and Pritchett was driving east on E. 6th St., officers said.

Doris Ann Barrow, 33, of Substation told police her 1955 two-door sedan hit an unidentified car in the rear Friday night as she drove out of the Westgate School parking lot. She said there was no apparent damage.

Over-Insulating Can Complicate Heating Problem

AP Newsfeatures

Question: The heat in our house is in the ceilings. Very often the upper part of a room is very warm, but it is too cool in the lower part.

Even though there are exhaust fans in the kitchen and bathroom, those windows steam up. We have storm windows and doors all through the house. The heat is electric. Would it help to put in baseboard heat?

Answer: It would appear that you have a problem of over-insulation. When it is properly installed, insulation can save up to 30 per cent in heating costs, as well as making a home far more comfortable.

But even the manufacturers of insulation admit that it is possible to over-insulate. One theory is that this occurs occasionally with electric heat, since extra heavy insulation is often recommended for that type of heating.

In this particular case, it is quite possible that the walls and ceilings are over - insulated, but that there is insufficient insulation in the floors. Is there an unheated crawl space beneath the house, a concrete slab floor without a vapor barrier or an air space between the top of the foundation wall and the wooden sill of the house?

If you have one of these conditions, depending on the type of construction, it might be causing part of the trouble.

In any case, baseboard - type heating would help. But our advice is to have a heating contractor determine what's wrong after a personal inspection.

'School' Held At Wellsville

125 Attend Area Classes On Arson

Some 125 fire and police officers attended an arson school, the first ever held in this area, Sunday at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville to learn the newest methods in detecting fires deliberately started.

Representatives of 18 fire departments, five police departments, the sheriff's office and the Division of Forestry attended the all-day school, the eighth held in the state since the program was started last year.

Two of the instructors and two of their "pupils" chat over the program during a break. Left to right are Charles J. Getz of Loudonville, first training co-ordinator for the trade and industrial services division of the State Department of Education; Paul Adams of East Palestine, president of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association; Stan Ridge, chief of the arson bureau of the state fire marshal's office, and Chief Robert Lewis of Wellsville.

Ridge, Asst. Chief Ray Niemi of Warren and Asst. Chief Paul Quinn of Canton served as instructors, with Getz as the supervisor.

Mayor William Daugherty gave the welcome and the invocation was given by the Rev. Arden Beck of the First Methodist Church.

Corner Braces Urged If Garage Door Sags

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Repairs to the house exterior and to things that have been exposed to the weather through the winter months are easily spotted.

One of the annoying things often encountered is the garage door which has sagged and, therefore, refuses to close tightly. Usually, if it can be slammed shut it becomes harder to open, and before many months have elapsed the door is badly shaken up and ready for replacement.

The cost of a new garage door is not to be taken lightly, but it can be repaired if measures are taken as soon as the sag is first noticed.

At little cost, you can buy corner braces or hangers and repair the door. These gadgets are composed of an assembly of two threaded rods having flat plates at their end, and at the center a turnbuckle connects the threaded ends.

The flat plates are screwed into the door at the top near the hinge and the lower plate as close to the lower edge of the door as is possible. When the turnbuckle is turned up it lifts the lower outside sagging edge of the door and restores it to proper position. Care must be taken to put the tension on gradually so that too much strain will not be applied to the door at one time.

These rods are far more effective than any wood battens such as we frequently see nailed across a door to take up a sag. They do not add to the weight of the door. And, being semi-steel, they will not warp out of shape as wood braces often do.

So many ways to vary stuffed eggs! Choose from anchovies, olives, pimiento, green pepper, capers, deviled ham, sardines.

Tumbles Hurt Child, Woman

A child and a woman injured in separate falls and a boy cut on a nail over the weekend were admitted to City Hospital, where four other persons were treated.

Mrs. Marian Rose, 62, of 512 E. 6th St. is in "fair" condition today with lacerations of the forehead and under the right eye suffered when she fell while attempting to help a friend catch her balance while visiting in Newell Sunday night. She was cut when her glasses broke.

Brenda Samberson, 12, daughter of Abe Samberson, 1624 Cleveland Ave., is in "good" condition with a head injury suffered Saturday evening when she fell against a mantel at home.

Charles McKinnon, 12, son of Harry McKinnon, 627 Riley Ave., cut the palm of his left hand on a rusty nail Sunday afternoon He is in "fairly good" condition today.

All the others were treated yesterday. Charles Moore, 50, of Lisbon St. had a piece of rust removed from his eye.

Nancy DeGarmo, 16, daughter of Alonzo DeGarmo, 1106 White St., Wellsville, injured her left knee in a fall down steps.

Wilford Wright, 36, of Salineville R. D. 1 suffered a laceration over the bridge of the nose when struck in the face by a pulley while working at Sterling China Co. in Wellsville.

Douglas Blazer, 11, son of Charles Blazer, 804 Chester Ave., suffered a puncture wound of the scalp when he bumped his head.

Man Dies In Minstrel

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—William Shannon, 61, of Port Clinton, a singer in a minstrel show at the high school here, was taking bows after completing a song Sunday night when he suffered a heart attack and collapsed on the stage. He was pronounced dead at Magruder Hospital.

Ex-Colonel Claimed

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Col. Edwin Y. Argo, 65, director of public relations for International Paper Co., since 1947, died Sunday. Argo, who retired from the Army in 1944 after 26 years service, was born in Talladega, Ala.

Priest Declares St. Patrick Fetes Harms Catholics

NEW YORK (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest of Irish descent suggests St. Patrick's Day parades can have "bad effects" for Catholics.

The Rev. Edward T. Cooke, writing in the current issue of Information magazine, a national Catholic monthly published here by the Paulist fathers, says St. Patrick's Day celebrations are harmful to the church, Catholic schools and the Irish.

Father Cooke, curate in Our Lady Queen of Peace church in Maywood, N.J., noted that he had marched in New York's St. Patrick's Day parade four times as a high school student in the late 40s.

"There, under the scrutiny of television cameras is a show of might and power and numerical size that strikes fear into the hearts of some Americans that these forces might be used for undemocratic purposes, Father Cooke said.

"We stand the risk of being misunderstood—of being thought of as divisive, of being judged a threat to public institutions."

Father Cooke also scored what he called the "anachronism of continuing to use 'the great day for the Irish' as the day for parading American Catholic education, as if the two were bound together inseparably."

Card Party Arranged

SUMMITVILLE — The St. John's Altar and Rosary Society will sponsor a benefit card party Saturday at 8 p.m. at the church hall. Proceeds will be used for repairs to the church hall. Mrs. Joseph Wright is chairman.

1,000 See Minstrel Show Presented By Lions Club

By CLARA HALL

A packed house of 1,000 enjoyed antics from a bygone era of the American stage at the third annual minstrel show presented by the Lions Club Saturday night at Westgate School as a benefit for its sight-saving projects.

Dr. Myer Alpern, general chairman, kept a swift pace as interlocutor and foil for the round of jokes passed by the end men, using stage props of a blackboard and tables. A chorus of Lions, wearing large red bows, provided the background singing.

Charles Laughley, a minstrel from way back when, just about brought down the house with his versions of "The Stuttering Song" and a parody of "Margie" on bedbugs.

John Mostoller, a minister who really enjoys singing, presented "The Preacher And The Bear" and "Is It True What They Say About Dixie?"

"The Gall Tones" comprised of Dr. John A. Fraser, Dr. Fraser Jackson, Dr. Richard Bonistalli and Dr. Alpern, fooled an audience all set for some fine singing, when they pantomimed the recording, "A Shanty In Old Shanty Town."

Ernest Lowe and Tommy Miller, both with TV experience behind them, added a professional note to the program. Ernie sang "Far Away Places" and "The Whiffenpoof Song" and Tommy did "The Lady Is A Tramp" and "April in Paris."

End men, providing comedy along with singing, were Dr. William Sulkes, who sang "Toot Toot Tootsie;" Laurin Stacey, "Birth Of The Blues;" Pat DiPasquale, "Darktown Strutters Ball;" Bob Talbott, "Alabamy Jubilee;" Ed Shingler, "Floating Down To Cotton Town;" Jerry Rose, "Charlie My Boy;" Curt Hague, "Ole Man River" and "Carry Me Back" and James Johnstone, "Yes Sir, That's My Baby."

Additions to the program were Howard Treleven, who sang "When You Wore A Tulip;" Bob Henthorne, "The Only Girl In The World;" Harry Lutton, "Hey, Look Me Over" and Dick Smith, "One Life" and "Danny Boy."

Feminine touches to the program were added by Miss Nyla Jo Bailey, area pantomime artist, who performed to the recordings of "Waterloo" and "Does Your Chewing Gum Lose Its Flavor," to which she added a bit of the popular "twist."

Little Carole Vest, who was the hit of the recent Westgate talent show, sang hillbilly songs, "Sleep, Baby Sleep" and "The Bar Room Song," with her own guitar accompaniment.

Bits of comedy were added by Mrs. Rose Lowry, selling pizza, and Barbara Hall, who served as water girl.

Anthony Bernardi of Chester directed the production. Miss Jo Ann Vannoy, who was pianist, received a corsage from the group.

About 1,800 thunderstorms are in progress throughout the world in any one given minutes.

9 Named To Distribute Garden Seeds For Needy

A nine-member citizens' committee has been organized to handle the distribution of emergency garden seeds in Hancock County and March 19 set as the date for unemployed and needy families to make applications for the packets.

The Rev. Allen S. Fields is chairman of the "Gardening for Better Living" program.

The committee will receive applications for seeds, approve or deny requests and distribute the packets of vegetable seeds.

The committee will receive requests for the seed packets, each valued at $4.75, March 19 from 1 to 4 p. m. at four locations in the county.

Applications may be filed at the Chester City Hall, Newell fire department, the county agricultural office in New Cumberland and the Christian Center or Salvation Army in Weirton.

Families unable to apply for the seed packets on March 19 may file at the agricultural office in New Cumberland March 20-22.

The emergency seed program was operated in 35 West Virginia counties a year ago, but is being extended to all 55 counties this year under an act of the State Legislature.

The legislature appropriated enough funds for 22,000 kits, each of which will contain 12 packs of vegetable seeds.

Headed by the New Cumberland minister, the county committee includes Mrs. Willis Ralston, Mrs. Floyd Grimes, Mrs. Gussie Rice, Mrs. Wayland Lancaster, Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Mills, Mrs. Beulah Hill and Mrs. Major Amos Varney.

Advisory members are Miss Ada Hindman and Mrs. Edith Evans of the Department of Public Assistance in New Cumberland and Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Aiding in the organization of the county committee at a meeting Thursday were Charles Vaughn of the State Department of Agriculture and W. H. Conkle, horticulturist of West Virginia University.

3 Awarded Trophies At 500 When Lisbon Club Convenes

Mrs. Cecil McCowin, Mrs. Robert Hahn and Mrs. Everett Biggins won prizes at 500 when Mrs. John Holshue of N. Jefferson St. entertained the Cardettes Friday night. Mrs. Hahn was a guest.

Lunch was served, using a St. Patrick's Day theme.

Mrs. Donald Elkins of Blacks Rd. will receive the club March 23.

Pythian Sisters Meet

The Pythian Sisters Lodge met Friday night in the Pythian Temple, with Mrs. Roy Patterson presiding in the absence of Mrs. Pearl Camp.

Following the ritualistic work, birthday anniversaries of members were observed with gifts, lunch and birthday cake. Mrs. C. E. Mitchell and her committee were hostesses.

The next regular meeting will be March 23.

Club Entertained

A 7:30 o'clock dessert bridge was held by the Fortnightly Club Friday night in the home of Miss Josephine Bennett of N. Market St.

Three tables were in play. Mrs. A. G. Marshall, Mrs. Frank Henry and Miss Deerla Smith were guests.

The next meeting will be March 22, with the place to be announced.

Lunch Precedes Cards

Double-Four Club met Saturday night at the home of Mrs. A. E. Christopher on Vine St. A 7 o'clock lunch preceded cards.

Miss Helene Prudner of W. Chestnut St. will entertain March 24.

"The Risk of Being a Presbyterian" will be the topic for the first part of the message for the "Thursday at 7" service at Trinity United Presbyterian Church this week. It will be followed by "The Risk of Having a Destiny". Discussions will be held, as well as a song service and candlelight prayers.

Mariners Convene

Seven couples of the Mariners Group of Trinity United Presbyterian Church met Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yarwood in Salem, former Lisbon residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarwood, skippers, were in charge of the business and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Zaplata led devotions.

The program was presented by Miss Takayo Kinashita, an exchange student who is making her home with Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Lehwald in Salem. She was introduced by Mrs. Lehwald.

Lunch was served by the hosts, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Reese.

Work Night Set

The next meeting will be a work night April 14 at the church, beginning with a 6 o'clock coverdish dinner.

Atty. and Mrs. Lynn Riddle of E. Lincoln Way returned home Saturday evening from Columbus, where he had been on business several days.

Charles Bonar of E. Chestnut St. spent the weekend with relatives in Moundsville, W. Va.

India is one of the hottest nations in the world and yet holds the world's record for the greatest annual rainfall.

Produce Due To Remain In Short Supply

Supplies of fresh vegetables in this area will remain light through March as a result of unfavorable weather in the growing areas in the deep south and far west, according to Richard Skinner, market information specialist with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Weather has been cool and has slowed growth of California broccoli and cauliflower. Lettuce supplies are ligher than usual since none of the growing areas have a normal crop.

The setback given by the cold will cut supplies to moderate through March. California and Arizona supply most of the carrots at the present.

Volume of Texas cabbage is light compared to normal for this time of year. Damage was heavy in the lower Rio Grande Valley where most of the cabbage acreage is located.

Cucumbers, tomatoes and green peppers are near normal supply in spite of some setback.

Beef and pork are competitively priced at this time. Area grocers will be featuring both beef and pork cuts regulary during the next few weeks.

Pork prices have returned to the level of early fall as we have moved out of the season of peak supply for pork which normally occurs during late December and early January. However, we can expect slaughter for March to be above last year and prices to be slightly below those levels of last March.

Beef prices have changed very little during the winter. From all indications prices and supplies will remain relatively stable during March. Live cattle prices will dip slightly during late spring.

However, this is the barbecue season and the demand for steak increases while the demand for roasts decreases. This will result in prices of steaks or loins remaining at present levels or increasing slightly while prices of roasts and the longer cooking cuts may decrease as much as four to five cents a pound.

Doctors To Hear Talk Of Ways Of Avoiding Cancer

Dr. Robert J. Samp of Madison, Wis., assistant professor at the Cancer Research Hospital at the University of Wisconsin, will speak at the Ft. Steuben Academy of Medicine Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville.

His topic will be: "Prevention of Cancer — Forty Possible Means." The talk will follow a dinner meeting at 6:30 at the hotel.

Dr. Samp is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and interned at the University Hospital there. He is medical director of the Wisconsin Division of the American Cancer Society.

A medical educator and lecturer, he is particularly concerned with control of disease via prediagnosis. He has spoken before 1,500 audiences in 380 cities in 40 states.

Dr. Samp served with the Medical Corps in World War II.

Staged At Beaver Local

30 Given Superior Rating At County's Science Fair

Thirty students from four school districts received "superior" ratings in the Columbiana County Science Fair held over the weekend at Beaver Local High School.

Walter E. Lineberry, science instructor at Beaver Local who was in charge of the fair, said 175 projects were entered.

The top ratings went to:

Seventh grade—Bob Ramsey of Salineville, Southern Local, and Raymond Snyder of Hanoverton and Allen Greenawalt of Guilford Lake, both United Local.

Eighth—Michael J. Boyd of Wellsville R. D., Cathy Jones of Elmhurst Pl., Marsha Och of Calcutta, John Green of Rogers and Jim Smith and Daryl Seckman of East Liverpool, Beaver Local; Sandra Townsend of New Waterford, Fairfield - Waterford; Susan Hirst of Salineville, Southern Local, and Mary Lou Brantingham of Winona, United Local.

Ninth — Marilyn Hazel of Lisbon R. D., Karen Eells, Jill Myler and Linda Whitehill, all of Calcutta, and Theresa Apple of Elkton, all Beaver Local, and Ed Brenner of Kensington and Fred Heacock of Hanoverton, United Local.

Biology — Larry Drane of East Liverpool, Roger Vincent and Dorothy Buckley of Calcutta, and Jewel Bowman of Elkton, Beaver Local; Edwin Dangler of Salem R. D., United Local, and Martin Schweitzer of New Waterford, Fairfield-Waterford.

Chemistry — Lawrence Deidrick of East Liverpool R. D. and Walter Schukert of Wellsville R. D., Beaver Local, and Bonnie Mae Cox of Kensington, United Local.

Physics — Ron Deering of Calcutta, Beaver Local, and Bill Burns of Kensington, Southern Local.

Crash Hurts Mother, Son

A Wellsville area woman and her young son were injured in a two-car crash Saturday evening on Route 30 near Apples Corners, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

The crash involved the southbound car of John Torma, 43, of Wellsville R. D. 2 and the northbound vehicle of Ivan Haggard, 23, of Sebring.

The patrol said Haggard pulled out around a car in front that had slowed for a turn and crashed into the Wellsville man's car, approaching from the opposite direction.

Mrs. Irma Torma, 40, suffered a bruise of the left shoulder, while John Torma Jr., 8, suffered lacerations of the lower lip. They were treated later by a Lisbon physician. Torma escaped unhurt, along with Haggard.

The patrol said Haggard was cited on a charge of unsafe operation in the mishap at 7:15 p.m. at the junction of Routes 30 and 267.

In another mishap Saturday at 12:50 p. m. on Route 154, three-tenths of a mile west of Rogers, a pickup truck operated by Joseph McConaughy, 19, of Beaver slammed into the rear of a car of Arnell Howell, 36, of Rogers.

The patrol said Howell was slowing for a left turn, when his car was struck in the rear by the Beaver driver's truck. Neither was injured. McConaughy was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Theme Selected For Cub Session

"Islands of the World" will be the theme for the pack meeting of Ohioville Cub Scout Troop 426, it was announced when the pack committee met in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Higginbotham of Fairview Friday night.

The meeting will be held in the Fairview School March 30 at 7:30 p.m. Uniform inspection will take place and attendance recognition will be given for the den having the most cubs and parents present.

The committee voted to support the Community Service Project for aid to needy families in the area.

Cubs are selling garden seeds as a project.

The pack will hold a roller skating party at New Brighton March 27 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Thieves Take $1,000 In Stamps And Coins

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Thieves made off with more than $1,000 in stamps and coins being shown at the annual exhibit of the Toledo Stamp Collectors Club.

Persons reporting losses Sunday included C. A. Morey, Verona, N. Y.; H. P. Nest, Cleveland; Robert Yuker, Coshocton, Ohio; J. Roger Gratz, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Albert Spaeth, Northville, Mich.

Lodge Anniversary's Program Attracts 500

Over 500 attended a special program and dinner concluding the 50th anniversary celebration of Moose Lodge 122 Sunday afternoon and evening in the lodge home on E. 3rd St.

Over 300 members, children and guests were served a turkey dinner at 5 p. m. by the Womens' Auxiliary.

The program that followed included a floor show by men and women of Cambridge Moose Lodge, selections by the "Great Scotts" barbershop quartet of East Liverpool and dancing to the music of William Jackson's band of Leetonia.

Children of members participated in a special "twist" program, according to Arnold Densmore, secretary.

44 Attend Inspection Of City Masons Unit

Forty-four attended the annual inspection of East Liverpool Chapter 100, Royal Arch Masons, Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Ray M. Baxter of Brookfield was inspecting officer. Lester W. Smith, high priest, presided.

The Royal Arch Degree was conferred under the direction of Herman E. Miller and Eric R. Young.

Visitors were from Youngstown, Kinsman, Salem and Wellsville. Lunch was served by Dave Kennedy and his committee.

The next meeting is April 2.

Sen. Miller To Speak For School Workshop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, is scheduled to deliver the keynote address at a high school government project here March 31.

The workshop in government is expected to attract 1,000 students from 40 Ohio high schools and is sponsored by the Political Science Club at Capital University.

Mothers Will Meet

WEST POINT — The West Point Mothers Club will meet Wednesday at 1 p.m. in the West Point School cafeteria. Mothers of children who will enter first grade in September have been invited. Crash Hurts Mother, Son

A Wellsville area woman and her young son were injured in a two-car crash Saturday evening on Route 30 near Apples Corners, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

The crash involved the southbound car of John Torma, 43, of Wellsville R. D. 2 and the northbound vehicle of Ivan Haggard, 23, of Sebring.

The patrol said Haggard pulled out around a car in front that had slowed for a turn and crashed into the Wellsville man's car, approaching from the opposite direction.

Mrs. Irma Torma, 40, suffered a bruise of the left shoulder, while John Torma Jr., 8, suffered lacerations of the lower lip. They were treated later by a Lisbon physician. Torma escaped unhurt, along with Haggard.

The patrol said Haggard was cited on a charge of unsafe operation in the mishap at 7:15 p.m. at the junction of Routes 30 and 267.

In another mishap Saturday at 12:50 p. m. on Route 154, three-tenths of a mile west of Rogers, a pickup truck operated by Joseph McConaughy, 19, of Beaver slammed into the rear of a car of Arnell Howell, 36, of Rogers.

The patrol said Howell was slowing for a left turn, when his car was struck in the rear by the Beaver driver's truck. Neither was injured. McConaughy was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance.

Lodge Anniversary's Program Attracts 500

Over 500 attended a special program and dinner concluding the 50th anniversary celebration of Moose Lodge 122 Sunday afternoon and evening in the lodge home on E. 3rd St.

Over 300 members, children and guests were served a turkey dinner at 5 p. m. by the Womens' Auxiliary.

The program that followed included a floor show by men and women of Cambridge Moose Lodge, selections by the "Great Scotts" barbershop quartet of East Liverpool and dancing to the music of William Jackson's band of Leetonia.

Children of members participated in a special "twist" program, according to Arnold Densmore, secretary.

44 Attend Inspection Of City Masons Unit

Forty-four attended the annual inspection of East Liverpool Chapter 100, Royal Arch Masons, Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Ray M. Baxter of Brookfield was inspecting officer. Lester W. Smith, high priest, presided.

The Royal Arch Degree was conferred under the direction of Herman E. Miller and Eric R. Young.

Visitors were from Youngstown, Kinsman, Salem and Wellsville. Lunch was served by Dave Kennedy and his committee.

Stanton Bounced From Tourney By Hiland, 63-52

Long Win Streak Is Halted At 23

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"When a team wins 23 straight like we did, its due for a bad night and we had one tonight, we just couldn't hit," Coach Harry Diehl explained in the dressing room after his Stanton Local five was knocked out of the tournament running.

Hiland High School of Holmes County, well schooled in the art of defense, became the first team to defeat Stanton in 23 games this season.

The Hawks did it in impressive fashion, too, scoring a 63-52 victory to capture the District Class A championship Saturday night before a standing room crowd of 7,000 in the Diocesan Arena at Steubenville.

The crowd was the largest to attend a game at the two-year-old Steubenville plant.

Diehl, a very calm fellow under fire, was first to point to Hiland's defense. "They kept us out of the inside, especially in the first half," the Stanton coach said.

—:—

HILAND had to stop All-Ohio Don Spires, who carried a 26-point average into Saturday's finals. Andy Ahijevych, Hiland's 6-foot-5 pivot man, turned in an outstanding job on Spires, holding Stanton's 6-foot-6 center to eight points and only two field goals for three quarters.

Spires finally responded with 12 points in the final quarter, but by that time it was too late.

A fine third quarter by Hiland decided the contest. Leading 22-18 at halftime, the Hawks ripped Stanton Local's zone to shreads in the third period, outscoring its foe, 20-9, which carried them into a 42-27 lead.

The closest that Stanton Local could come after the fourth quarter started was seven points, but only 36 seconds remained as the score read, 59-52.

—:—

DURING the third quarter, Stanton showed only two field goals, both plunked in by stellar guard Bob Mills, who hit on a pair of jump shots late in the period.

Spires, who had dropped in 42 points for his season's high against Dennison in Wednesday's District semi-final game, met his match Saturday in Ahijevych and his mates.

The Stilt opened up with two field goals in the first quarter, but didn't hit again from the floor until the fourth quarter. He showed one point in the second period and three charity tosses in the third as he was forced from his normal inside shooting spot.

It wasn't until Ahijevych had acquired his fourth personal foul early in the fourth quarter that Spires turned loose with his six field goals with some fine shooting.

HILAND coach Bob Schrock put a well-balanced outfit on the floor. Other than Ahijevych, who is of Russian decent, Hiland was a small club, but could shoot well.

The new District champs hit on 42 per cent of their shots, showing 25 of 60. Stanton fired 34 per cent on 19 of 55.

Four Hiland starters gained the double figures, with Ahijevych pouring in 19. Outside men Art Mullen and Colin Mishler fired in 13 and 11, respectively, while Ken Hochstetler found the range for 14.

Mills, who tried to pick up the slack from the outside after Stanton's inside attack was stopped, finished his final game for Irondale with 16 points.

Although Spires was hampered during the early stages in scoring, he continued his fine rebounding by winding up with 15. Marlon McCune a guard, pulled 11 off the boards.

THE DISTRICT A final started evenly enough with both teams exchanging leads in the first quarter. Stanton wound up with a 9-8 edge after the first eight minutes.

The score was tied twice in the second quarter at 10-10 and 12-12, but a field goal by Mullet put Hiland in front 14-12 for a lead that was never relinquished.

Taking a 22-18 advantage into the third quarter, Hiland opened up with a six-point outburst while Stanton was held scoreless. This sent the score to 28-18 with 5:58 remaining and the Hawks were on their way.

Both teams lost one starter through the personal foul route. Curt Rose of Stanton left with three minutes remaining, while Mishler fouled out with 2:06 showing.

The victory sends Hiland to the regional tournament at Canton and only two steps away from a trip to Columbus for the state finals.

Steubenville Advances After Blasting Riders

STEUBENVILLE — The ever-improving forces of Steubenville Big Red jumped off to such a big lead that Martins Ferry never got back into the game and spelled out a District Class AA championship for Steubenville by a 76-59 count here Saturday night.

The District title, second for Big Red in three years, puts Coach Walt Owen's boys into the regionals at the Fairgrounds in Columbus this week.

Steubenville piled up a 22-11 lead at the end of the first quarter, held a 34-24 margin at halftime and carried a 54-39 difference into the fourth period.

Leavi Davis, Big Red's all-around 6-foot-4 performer, triggered the attack with 22 points while teammate Harry Wilson added 16.

South Eliminates Salem By Scoring 67-55 Win

YOUNGSTOWN — Youngstown South, the surprise of the District tournament here, came fighting back from a 13-point deficit early in the contest and went on to eliminate Salem, 67-55, Saturday night at the South High Fieldhouse.

The victory advances South to the regional tournament at Kent State University this week.

Salem broke on top 21-10 at the end of the first quarter, but South employing a devastating all-court press, brought the margin down to 31-28 at halftime and zoomed into a 49-40 lead at the end of three periods of play.

Four South starters made their way into the double figures. John Tensley and Roy White led the way with 15 each. Bob Eskay was high for the Quakers with 17.

Salem lost to South earlier in the season by another 12 - point margin, 72-60.

SOUTH—67

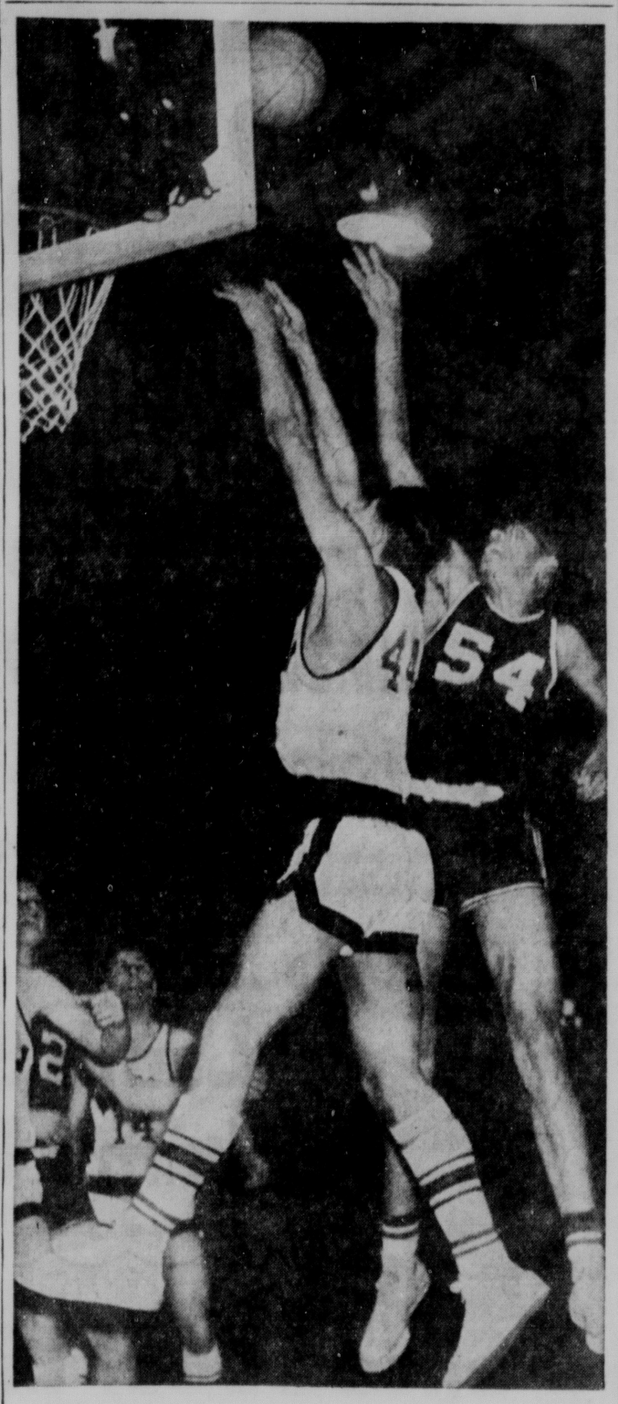
Ohio Dominates Look All-American Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio dominated the All-American selections made by the U. S. Basketball Writers Association for Look Magazine, it was announced today.

Three Ohioans, Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek of Ohio State and Paul Hogue of Cincinnati, were named to the 10-man All America squad. Purdue's Terry Dischinger and Bradley's Chet Walker were the other midwesterners who were All America choices of the basketball writers. Others were Len Chappell of Wake Forest, Art Heyman of Duke, Cotton Nash of Kentucky, Jack Foley of Holy Cross and Bill McGill of Utah.

Larry Bramlette, yearling member of the West Point rifle team, comes from Anchorage, Alaska.



THIS WAS the scene most of the evening as Big Don Spires (54) of Stanton Local and Andy Ahijevych (44), Hiland's 6-foot-5 center, battled on boards for rebounds. Both are shown jumping high to grab a rebound in the second half of Saturday's District tournament final at Steubenville.

Pop-Up Collision Almost Proves Costly To Cubs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The scorecard for the first two days of major-league baseball's exhibition season shows:

1. A narrowly averted million-dollar accident when third baseman Ron Santo and experimental first baseman Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs collided with a thud while chasing a pop up in a game with Boston.

2. Mack (The Knife) Jones, rookie hopeful with the Milwaukee Braves, leading the home run hitters.

3. Cincinnati's National League champion Reds solidly whacked in both games with Chicago's White Sox.

Santo, the Cubs' outstanding third baseman selected as the sophomore of the year after a 1961 campaign in which he hit at a .284 clip with 23 homers and 83 RBI, was carried off the field on a stretcher during Sunday's 6-5 loss to the Red Sox at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Chasing a foul pop in the sixth inning, Santo crashed into Banks and was knocked down. He rose, then collapsed. Taken to a hospital, examination showed Santo suffered rib bruises from a knee blow to the solar plexus area. Banks was not hurt.

Jones, a .326 swinger at Louisville up for his second try with the Braves, stroked a solo homer in a losing effort Saturday, then powered the Braves to a 10-6 thumping of Detroit at Bradenton, Fla., Sunday, with a pair that accounted for five runs.

The Reds lost their opener to the White Sox 8-2 and were kicked around 10-3 in Sunday's game at Tampa, Fla., with three first-line pitchers—Jim O'Toole, Bob Purkey and Jim Brosnan—allowing 10 hits. The trio accounted for 45 wins last season.

The National League's two new entries—New York and Houston—had one victory in four games after the weekend action. The Mets edged St. Louis 4-3 Sunday at St. Petersburg to check into the win column, but the Colts were beaten 8-7 by the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs, Calif.

In other Sunday games, the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 5-4 at Miami; Philadelphia defeated Minnesota 3-1 at Clearwater, Fla.; San Francisco nipped Cleveland 9-8 in 10 innings at Phoenix, Ariz.; Washington edged Pittsburgh 7-6 at Fort Myers, Fla. and Kansas City whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-5 at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Red Sox beat the Cubs with a run in the eighth on singles by Bob Tillman, Lu Clinton and Don Gile.

Over 100 Attend Fete

Pinney Named Outstanding Player At Chester Dinner

Blaine Pinney, a three - year varsity regular at Chester who was hampered by injuries during his career, was named the Panther's "oustanding player" Saturday night when the Chester High basketball squad was honored at a dinner at the Masonic Temple.

Over 100 players, their fathers, coaches, cheerleaders and guests attended the dinner sponsored by the Football and Basketball Mothers.

Along with Pinney, Jerry Smith, senior guard on the Panther varsity, was presented a trophy as the team's best foul shot. The trophies were presented by Principal R. M. McFarland.

—:—

MAX TUTTLE, Chester's veteran coach, introduced John Fitzjohn, who has been a faithful fan of Chester High School for 35 years. He was presented a season's pass to all 1962-63 home basketball games. A gift was also presented to Merrill Miller who has been time-keeper at Chester for many seasons.

Tuttle, reminiscing for awhile, told of Chester's basketball teams from the time they played in the Virginia Gardens in Rock Springs Park, in the building which now houses the merry-go-round and in the City Hall Building.

Atty. James Jordan of Chester, a former All-American at the University of North Carolina in the early 1940's, was guest speaker. He stressed the importance of team-work whether it be on the basketball court or later in life.

—:—

JORDAN quoted several times from Col. John Glenn, who repeatedly staged that the success of Mercury 7 was entirely due to a "team effort" so is the success for any undertaking in sports, Jordan pointed out.

Speaking of the changes in rules from his playing days at Chester High School, Jordan said "we now have a much faster and perhaps a rougher game."

Gold basketballs were presented to seniors Blaine Pinney, Bill Yoakum, Jerry Smith, Keith Sayre, Rich Reber and Jerry Hissam.

Varsity "C" letters went to sophomore Gary Mayhew and senior manager Jerry Harris.

In the absence of Miss Sara Thomas, cheerleader coach, who was ill, Miss Peggy Miller introduced the cheerleaders recognizing three senior girls Patti Taylor, Alyce Shaw and Peggy Miller.

Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Jordan and Miss Thomas by the Basketball Mothers.

Remarks were also made by Dom Amedeo, head football coach and McFarland.

Robert Johnston gave the invocation.

In Little Potters Benefit

Local All-Stars Selected To Meet Salem Wednesday

An 11-man City League All-Star team, which will face the Salem All-Stars Wednesday in the third annual Little Potters League benefit game, has been completed.

Keith Bishop who coached George Bright's to a City League title will handle the All-Stars in Wednesday's game at Memorial Auditorium.

The star studded roster is dominated by three players off the championship Bright's five including Wayne Cline, Al Dawson and "Jumpin" Joe Anderson. John Kiger, the ex-Wells High star, was picked from the Newell Merchants and led his team in scoring this past season. From Alex's Carry-Out Bishop named Bill Thornberry, the ex-Potter and Washington & Jefferson standout along with Gus Dauka.

Ted Robinson, a former Chester cager, was the lone pick from the Professional Mercantile entry. Herb Lake and Carl Anderson of Bloor's Pharmacy and Jim Smith and John Iams of Wellsville were announced, as members of the all-star squad earlier.

The East Liverpool-Salem battle should get underway at about 8:30 following three Little Potter League battles which will decide tournament champions in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grade loops.

The first Little Potter contest will get underway at 7 p. m. Tickets will be sold at the door and are being sold by Little Potter officials and coaches. Students tickets will be available the night of the game.

All proceeds will be used for the Little Potters Basketball program.

Potter basketball coaches Jim Harris and Frank Chan will officiate the Little Potter games, while Jim Migliore and Harry Wolfe will handle the All - Star battle.

Budd Equals Indoor Mark At 60 Yards

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's fastest human is mapping plans to become even a faster world's fastest human.

Traditionally, the holder of the 100-yard record is awarded the title of the world's fastest human. Robert Hayes of Florida A&M, has tied the record, but it hasn't been recognized yet.

"I'll be perfectly happy to hit 9.1 for the 100," Budd said today. "I'm not sure I can get down to 9 flat, though. If it comes, all right. But I'm setting my sights on 9.1."

Budd equalled the indoor 60-yard sprint record of 6 flat twice during the IC4A championships Saturday. He hit it in an afternoon heat and again in the final in the evening in Madison Square Garden. Herb Carper (once) and Roscoe Cook (three times) are the only other 6 second men around.

"I think I can do 5.9 for the 60-yard dash," Budd volunteered. "The start is the key to it. You have to get off to a perfect start if you're going to set any kind of a record.

Stanton Bounced From Tourney By Hiland, 63-52

Long Win Streak Is Halted At 23

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

"When a team wins 23 straight like we did, its due for a bad night and we had one tonight, we just couldn't hit," Coach Harry Diehl explained in the dressing room after his Stanton Local five was knocked out of the tournament running.

Hiland High School of Holmes County, well schooled in the art of defense, became the first team to defeat Stanton in 23 games this season.

The Hawks did it in impressive fashion, too, scoring a 63-52 victory to capture the District Class A championship Saturday night before a standing room crowd of 7,000 in the Diocesan Arena at Steubenville.

The crowd was the largest to attend a game at the two-year-old Steubenville plant.

Diehl, a very calm fellow under fire, was first to point to Hiland's defense. "They kept us out of the inside, especially in the first half," the Stanton coach said.

—:—

HILAND had to stop All-Ohio Don Spires, who carried a 26-point average into Saturday's finals. Andy Ahijevych, Hiland's 6-foot-5 pivot man, turned in an outstanding job on Spires, holding Stanton's 6-foot-6 center to eight points and only two field goals for three quarters.

Spires finally responded with 12 points in the final quarter, but by that time it was too late.

A fine third quarter by Hiland decided the contest. Leading 22-18 at halftime, the Hawks ripped Stanton Local's zone to shreads in the third period, outscoring its foe, 20-9, which carried them into a 42-27 lead.

The closest that Stanton Local could come after the fourth quarter started was seven points, but only 36 seconds remained as the score read, 59-52.

—:—

DURING the third quarter, Stanton showed only two field goals, both plunked in by stellar guard Bob Mills, who hit on a pair of jump shots late in the period.

Spires, who had dropped in 42 points for his season's high against Dennison in Wednesday's District semi-final game, met his match Saturday in Ahijevych and his mates.

The Stilt opened up with two field goals in the first quarter, but didn't hit again from the floor until the fourth quarter. He showed one point in the second period and three charity tosses in the third as he was forced from his normal inside shooting spot.

It wasn't until Ahijevych had acquired his fourth personal foul early in the fourth quarter that Spires turned loose with his six field goals with some fine shooting.

HILAND coach Bob Schrock put a well-balanced outfit on the floor. Other than Ahijevych, who is of Russian decent, Hiland was a small club, but could shoot well.

The new District champs hit on 42 per cent of their shots, showing 25 of 60. Stanton fired 34 per cent on 19 of 55.

Four Hiland starters gained the double figures, with Ahijevych pouring in 19. Outside men Art Mullen and Colin Mishler fired in 13 and 11, respectively, while Ken Hochstetler found the range for 14.

Mills, who tried to pick up the slack from the outside after Stanton's inside attack was stopped, finished his final game for Irondale with 16 points.

Although Spires was hampered during the early stages in scoring, he continued his fine rebounding by winding up with 15. Marlon McCune a guard, pulled 11 off the boards.

THE DISTRICT A final started evenly enough with both teams exchanging leads in the first quarter. Stanton wound up with a 9-8 edge after the first eight minutes.

The score was tied twice in the second quarter at 10-10 and 12-12, but a field goal by Mullet put Hiland in front 14-12 for a lead that was never relinquished.

Taking a 22-18 advantage into the third quarter, Hiland opened up with a six-point outburst while Stanton was held scoreless. This sent the score to 28-18 with 5:58 remaining and the Hawks were on their way.

Both teams lost one starter through the personal foul route. Curt Rose of Stanton left with three minutes remaining, while Mishler fouled out with 2:06 showing.

The victory sends Hiland to the regional tournament at Canton and only two steps away from a trip to Columbus for the state finals.

Steubenville Advances After Blasting Riders

STEUBENVILLE — The ever-improving forces of Steubenville Big Red jumped off to such a big lead that Martins Ferry never got back into the game and spelled out a District Class AA championship for Steubenville by a 76-59 count here Saturday night.

The District title, second for Big Red in three years, puts Coach Walt Owen's boys into the regionals at the Fairgrounds in Columbus this week.

Steubenville piled up a 22-11 lead at the end of the first quarter, held a 34-24 margin at halftime and carried a 54-39 difference into the fourth period.

Leavi Davis, Big Red's all-around 6-foot-4 performer, triggered the attack with 22 points while teammate Harry Wilson added 16.

South Eliminates Salem By Scoring 67-55 Win

YOUNGSTOWN — Youngstown South, the surprise of the District tournament here, came fighting back from a 13-point deficit early in the contest and went on to eliminate Salem, 67-55, Saturday night at the South High Fieldhouse.

The victory advances South to the regional tournament at Kent State University this week.

Salem broke on top 21-10 at the end of the first quarter, but South employing a devastating all-court press, brought the margin down to 31-28 at halftime and zoomed into a 49-40 lead at the end of three periods of play.

Four South starters made their way into the double figures. John Tensley and Roy White led the way with 15 each. Bob Eskay was high for the Quakers with 17.

Salem lost to South earlier in the season by another 12 - point margin, 72-60.

SOUTH—67
Tensley 7-1-15; Jones 4-5-13; White 4-7-15; McElroy 2-4-8; Johnson 5-4-14. Totals 23-21-67.

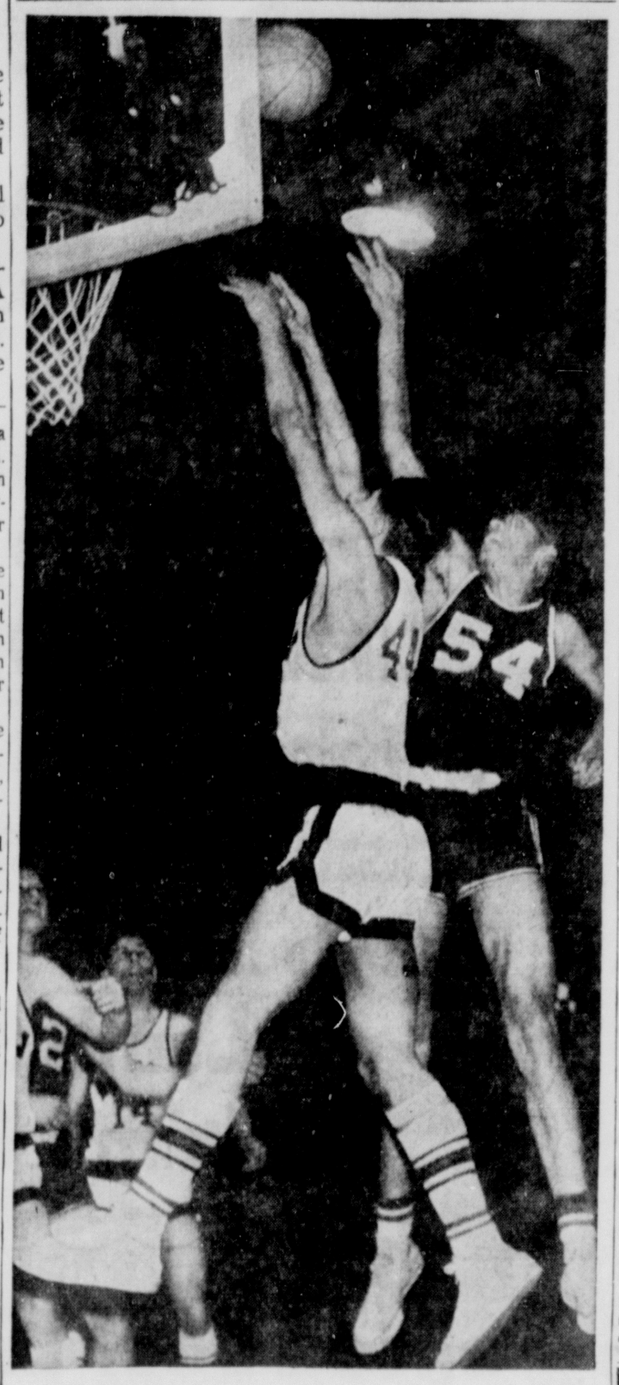
Ohio Dominates Look All-American Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio dominated the All-American selections made by the U. S. Basketball Writers Association for Look Magazine, it was announced today.

Three Ohioans, Jerry Lucas and John Havlicek of Ohio State and Paul Hogue of Cincinnati, were named to the 10-man All America squad. Purdue's Terry Dischinger and Bradley's Chet Walker were the other midwesterners who were All America choices of the basketball writers. Others were Len Chappell of Wake Forest, Art Heyman of Duke, Cotton Nash of Kentucky, Jack Foley of Holy Cross and Bill McGill of Utah.

Larry Bramlette, yearling member of the West Point rifle team, comes from Anchorage, Alaska.



THIS WAS the scene most of the evening as Big Don Spires (54) of Stanton Local and Andy Ahijevych (44), Hiland's 6-foot-5 center, battled on boards for rebounds. Both are shown jumping high to grab a rebound in the second half of Saturday's District tournament final at Steubenville.

Pop-Up Collision Almost Proves Costly To Cubs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The scorecard for the first two days of major-league baseball's exhibition season shows:

1. A narrowly averted million-dollar accident when third baseman Ron Santo and experimental first baseman Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs collided with a thud while chasing a pop up in a game with Boston.

2. Mack (The Knife) Jones, rookie hopeful with the Milwaukee Braves, leading the home run hitters.

3. Cincinnati's National League champion Reds solidly whacked in both games with Chicago's White Sox.

Santo, the Cubs' outstanding third baseman selected as the sophomore of the year after a 1961 campaign in which he hit at a .284 clip with 23 homers and 83 RBI, was carried off the field on a stretcher during Sunday's 6-5 loss to the Red Sox at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Chasing a foul pop in the sixth inning, Santo crashed into Banks and was knocked down. He rose, then collapsed. Taken to a hospital, examination showed Santo suffered rib bruises from a knee blow to the solar plexus area. Banks was not hurt.

Jones, a .326 swinger at Louisville up for his second try with the Braves, stroked a solo homer in a losing effort Saturday, then powered the Braves to a 10-6 thumping of Detroit at Bradenton, Fla., Sunday, with a pair that accounted for five runs.

The Reds lost their opener to the White Sox 8-2 and were kicked around 10-3 in Sunday's game at Tampa, Fla., with three first-line pitchers—Jim O'Toole, Bob Purkey and Jim Brosnan—allowing 10 hits. The trio accounted for 45 wins last season.

The National League's two new entries—New York and Houston—had one victory in four games after the weekend action. The Mets edged St. Louis 4-3 Sunday at St. Petersburg to check into the win column, but the Colts were beaten 8-7 by the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs, Calif.

In other Sunday games, the New York Yankees beat Baltimore 5-4 at Miami; Philadelphia defeated Minnesota 3-1 at Clearwater, Fla.; San Francisco nipped Cleveland 9-8 in 10 innings at Phoenix, Ariz.; Washington edged Pittsburgh 7-6 at Fort Myers, Fla. and Kansas City whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-5 at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The Red Sox beat the Cubs with a run in the eighth on singles by Bob Tillman, Lu Clinton and Don Gile.

Over 100 Attend Fete

Pinney Named Outstanding Player At Chester Dinner

Blaine Pinney, a three - year varsity regular at Chester who was hampered by injuries during his career, was named the Panther's "oustanding player" Saturday night when the Chester High basketball squad was honored at a dinner at the Masonic Temple.

Over 100 players, their fathers, coaches, cheerleaders and guests attended the dinner sponsored by the Football and Basketball Mothers.

Along with Pinney, Jerry Smith, senior guard on the Panther varsity, was presented a trophy as the team's best foul shot. The trophies were presented by Principal R. M. McFarland.

—:—

MAX TUTTLE, Chester's veteran coach, introduced John Fitzjohn, who has been a faithful fan of Chester High School for 35 years. He was presented a season's pass to all 1962-63 home basketball games. A gift was also presented to Merrill Miller who has been time-keeper at Chester for many seasons.

Tuttle, reminiscing for awhile, told of Chester's basketball teams from the time they played in the Virginia Gardens in Rock Springs Park, in the building which now houses the merry-go-round and in the City Hall Building.

Atty. James Jordan of Chester, a former All-American at the University of North Carolina in the early 1940's, was guest speaker. He stressed the importance of team-work whether it be on the basketball court or later in life.

—:—

JORDAN quoted several times from Col. John Glenn, who repeatedly staged that the success of Mercury 7 was entirely due to a "team effort" so is the success for any undertaking in sports, Jordan pointed out.

Speaking of the changes in rules from his playing days at Chester High School, Jordan said "we now have a much faster and perhaps a rougher game."

Gold basketballs were presented to seniors Blaine Pinney, Bill Yoakum, Jerry Smith, Keith Sayre, Rich Reber and Jerry Hissam.

BASKETBALL medals went to junior varsity players Jim Tridico, Bob Myers, Jim Conkle, Kelse Johnson and Chuck Mullen.

Varsity "C" letters went to sophomore Gary Mayhew and senior manager Jerry Harris.

In the absence of Miss Sara Thomas, cheerleader coach, who was ill, Miss Peggy Miller introduced the cheerleaders recognizing three senior girls Patti Taylor, Alyce Shaw and Peggy Miller.

Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Jordan and Miss Thomas by the Basketball Mothers.

Remarks were also made by Dom Amedeo, head football coach and McFarland.

Robert Johnston gave the invocation.

In Little Potters Benefit

Local All-Stars Selected To Meet Salem Wednesday

An 11-man City League All-Star team, which will face the Salem All-Stars Wednesday in the third annual Little Potters League benefit game, has been completed.

Keith Bishop who coached George Bright's to a City League title will handle the All-Stars in Wednesday's game at Memorial Auditorium.

The star studded roster is dominated by three players off the championship Bright's five including Wayne Cline, Al Dawson and "Jumpin" Joe Anderson. John Kiger, the ex-Wells High star, was picked from the Newell Merchants and led his team in scoring this past season. From Alex's Carry-Out Bishop named Bill Thornberry, the ex-Potter and Washington & Jefferson standout along with Gus Dauka.

Ted Robinson, a former Chester cager, was the lone pick from the Professional Mercantile entry. Herb Lake and Carl Anderson of Bloor's Pharmacy and Jim Smith and John Iams of Wellsville were announced, as members of the all-star squad earlier.

The East Liverpool-Salem battle should get underway at about 8:30 following three Little Potter League battles which will decide tournament champions in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grade loops.

The first Little Potter contest will get underway at 7 p. m. Tickets will be sold at the door and are being sold by Little Potter officials and coaches. Students tickets will be available the night of the game.

All proceeds will be used for the Little Potters Basketball program.

Potter basketball coaches Jim Harris and Frank Chan will officiate the Little Potter games, while Jim Migliore and Harry Wolfe will handle the All - Star battle.

Budd Equals Indoor Mark At 60 Yards

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's fastest human is mapping plans to become even a faster world's fastest human.

Traditionally, the holder of the 100-yard record is awarded the title of the world's fastest human. Robert Hayes of Florida A&M, has tied the record, but it hasn't been recognized yet.

"I'll be perfectly happy to hit 9.1 for the 100," Budd said today. "I'm not sure I can get down to 9 flat, though. If it comes, all right. But I'm setting my sights on 9.1."

Budd equalled the indoor 60-yard sprint record of 6 flat twice during the IC4A championships Saturday. He hit it in an afternoon heat and again in the final in the evening in Madison Square Garden. Herb Carper (once) and Roscoe Cook (three times) are the only other 6 second men around.

"I think I can do 5.9 for the 60-yard dash," Budd volunteered. "The start is the key to it. You have to get off to a perfect start if you're going to set any kind of a record.

Cincy, Bradley Assured Of Playing In One Major Tourney

NCAA Berth At Stake Tonight In Battle At Evansville

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big-time college basketball's annual post-season carnivals start tonight. But a prime bit of unfinished business remains before a clear line can be taken on either of the major tournaments.

The single spot left in each of the two classics, the coast-to-coast NCAA and the National Invitation at New York, will be between Cincinnati and Bradley at Evansville, Ind. The two clubs tied for the Missouri Valley title. The winner gets the conference NCAA berth while the loser goes to the NIT.

Attention is focused on the game principally because Cincinnati captured the national championship in last year's NCAA by defeating mighty Ohio State and another clash between the Bearcats and Buckeyes has been long awaited.

The NCAA, with 16 conference representatives and 9 independent teams gunning for the crown, begins play tonight. First-round action will be completed Tuesday night, and the four regional semifinals and finals are set for Friday and Saturday. National semifinals and finals will be staged at Louisville Friday and Saturday, March 23-24.

The 12-team NIT has six doubleheaders set for Madison Square Garden, including first-round competition Thursday night and Saturday afternoon. Quarterfinals will be played Saturday night and Tuesday night, March 20. The semifinals are Thursday night, March 22, and the title match Saturday afternoon, March 24.

Here is the NCAA schedule:

East at Philadelphia tonight—Wake Forest (Atlantic Coast) vs. Yale (Ivy League); Massachusetts (Yankee) vs. New York University (at large), and West Virginia (Southern) vs. Villanova (at large). The Wake Forest-Yale winner plays St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania (Middle Atlantic) and the West Virginia-Villanova winner meets the NYU-Massachusetts winner in the regional semifinals at the University of Maryland.

Mideast at the University of Kentucky tonight—Bowling Green (Mid-American) vs. Butler (at large); and Western Kentucky (Ohio Valley) vs. Detroit (at large). Regional semifinals at the University of Iowa pits the Bowling Green-Butler winner against Kentucky (Southeastern) and the Western Kentucky-Detroit winner against Ohio State (Big Ten).

Midwest at Southern Methodist tonight—Texas Tech (Southwest) vs. Air Force (at large); and Creighton (at large) vs. Memphis State (at large). The Texas Tech-Air Force winner meets Colorado (Big Eight) and the Creighton-Memphis State winner takes on Cincinnati or Bradley in the regional semifinals at Kansas State.

West at Oregon State Tuesday night—Oregon State (at large) vs. Seattle (at large) and Utah State (Skyline) vs. Arizona State University (Border). The Oregon State-Seattle winner faces Pepperdine (WCAC); and the Utah State-Arizona State winner plays UCLA (Big Five) at Brigham Young in the regional semifinals.

Loyola of Chicago, St. John's of New York, Houston and Cincinnati or Bradley are seeded teams in the 25th annual NIT, drawing byes into the quarterfinals.

Wichita plays Dayton and Temple tackles defending champion Providence in the opening doubleheader Thursday night. Holy Cross meets Colorado State University and Duquesne goes against Navy in Saturday afternoon's first-round games.

Eight Teams Advance In Church Play

Eight teams advanced in the YMCA-Church League tournament after action Saturday night on the "Y" court.

First Nazarene eliminated Chester Nazarene 9-5 with Marvin Six and Larry Paynter scoring three points each to pace the winners. Kenny Brewere had four for the Chester five.

Second U. P., with Dave Pridemore hooping six points, stopped First U. P. 19-5.

Ron Roach fired in eight points to lead St. John's in a 15-7 count over Chester Methodist. Dan Forsythe and Frank Manypenny had three each for the losing five.

Boyce Methodist eliminated First Nazarene 25-5 with Bill Simms scoring nine points for the winners. John Moore tallied three of his team's five markers.

Trinity U. P., with 10 players gaining the scoring column shot past Wellsville Central Methodist, 32-13. Allen Lowe led the way with nine points while Tom Wicker scored five for the losers.

LaCroft Nazarene was a 15-13 winner over Calvary Methodist. Larry Marshall's seven points led the way while Mike Silliman's nine markers topped the Calvary five.

First Church of Christ eliminated Orchard Grove 22-17. Pacing the winners was Jerry Vaughn with eight points while Bill Cunningham sank nine markers for Orchard Grove.

W. L. Smith fired in 14 points in St. Stephen's 33-13 win over Grace U. P. Alfred Pasco scored 10 of his team's 13 points in a losing battle.

Bob Graham went on an 18-point scoring spree to pace Chester Christian in a 30-13 win over Oakland Free Methodist. Bob Page tallied eight markers for the losers.

Regional Battles Open

Ohio's Tournament Field Has 'Sweet 16' Flavor Now

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen Class AA and 16 Class A teams, with a combined record of 631 wins and 101 losses, dash into regional play this weekend in Ohio's high school basketball tournaments.

The 32 squads are the survivors of 933 which started down the long trail to the March 24 state championship games. Eight quintets, four in each class, will emerge from the regionals for the championship finals next week at St. John Arena.

The 16 class AA squads, last of the 433 to remain in the running, are headed by Cleveland East Tech's 1958 and 1959 state kings. The Scarabs were voted No. 1 by the state's sports writers in the final Associated Press poll.

In Class A, where 500 teams started down "heartbreak highway," the 1961 champion Ayersville Pilots are favored. The Defiance County team was top-ranked all through the weekly polls.

But, after a series of district final upsets which swept highly-rated talent from the scene, anything can happen in the lose-and-out series.

Urbana, runnerup to Portsmouth for the 1961 Class AA crown and sporting a 22 - game winning streak, was ousted 81-74 by Clayton Northmont, a consolidated school northwest of Dayton. Middletown's seven - time champions were victimized 71-67 by Hamilton Taft, second in the state rankings and winner of 23 in a row.

But the heaviest damage came in Class A. Third-ranked Irondale Stanton Local's 23-game winning streak was halted 63-52 by Berlin Hiland; seventh-ranked Fostoria St. Wendelin bowed 62-52 to Miller City's 1950 champions; 10th-ranked Carlisle was dumped 62-55 by Cincinnati DePorres, and Zanesville Rosecrans, after winning 22 in a row, was eliminated 64-60 by Beverly Fort Frye.

When the district smoke cleared, six of the Class AA top 10 were still aboard, but only two of the Class A elite were among the survivors.

In Class AA the top 10 teams remaining were East Tech (1), Hamilton Taft (2), Mansfield St. Peter (4), Toledo Central (5), Dayton Chaminade (7) and Marietta (10). The first three make up the unbeaten contingent, the other three have bowed once—for an overall record of 134-3.

Only top-ranked Ayersville and sixth-rated Fort Frye remain of the Class A top 10—and both are unbeaten. The Pilots are 25-0, Fort Frye 24-0.

Tournament Director At Youngstown Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Services were being arranged today for Dave Williams, 64, director of the Youngstown sectional and District Class AA high school Basketball tournaments for 18 years.

Williams, who died Sunday of a heart attack, handled the district tournament that ended Saturday night.

Milwaukee has a working agreement with Toronto. Ironically, Toronto is managed by Charlie Dressen, who was dropped as Braves' manager last fall.

Uhrichsville Man Moves Into Lead Of Singles Event

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ernie Reed of Uhrichsville rolled a torrid 758 to take a commanding lead in the singles competition of the Men's Ohio State Bowling Tournament here Sunday.

Reed topped Jim Wolf of Zanesville, last week's leader, by 78 pins. The Uhrichsville bowler also took the lead in the handicap singles with a 785. John Roll of Zanesville had held the lead in that department with a 718.

In other changes, Jerry's Steakhouse of Ravenna moved to the top of the team standings with a 3001 actual, and Arrow Lanes of Columbus took the top team handicap spot with a 3218 series.

The leaders in the actual doubles—Dan Meyers and Jim Thomas of Toledo—held their spot, but Ronald Jerew and Bob Hunter of Marion gained the lead in the handicap with a 1403 series.

Carl Williams of Columbus continues to lead in all events with 1938.

Mickey Cochrane is working on a two-year scouting contract with the Detroit Tigers.

Cincy, Bradley Assured Of Playing In One Major Tourney

NCAA Berth At Stake Tonight In Battle At Evansville

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big-time college basketball's annual post-season carnivals start tonight. But a prime bit of unfinished business remains before a clear line can be taken on either of the major tournaments.

The single spot left in each of the two classics, the coast-to-coast NCAA and the National Invitation at New York, will be between Cincinnati and Bradley at Evansville, Ind. The two clubs tied for the Missouri Valley title. The winner gets the conference NCAA berth while the loser goes to the NIT.

Attention is focused on the game principally because Cincinnati captured the national championship in last year's NCAA by defeating mighty Ohio State and another clash between the Bearcats and Buckeyes has been long awaited.

The NCAA, with 16 conference representatives and 9 independent teams gunning for the crown, begins play tonight. First-round action will be completed Tuesday night, and the four regional semifinals and finals are set for Friday and Saturday. National semifinals and finals will be staged at Louisville Friday and Saturday, March 23-24.

The 12-team NIT has six doubleheaders set for Madison Square Garden, including first-round competition Thursday night and Saturday afternoon. Quarterfinals will be played Saturday night and Tuesday night, March 20. The semifinals are Thursday night, March 22, and the title match Saturday afternoon, March 24.

Here is the NCAA schedule:

East at Philadelphia tonight—Wake Forest (Atlantic Coast) vs. Yale (Ivy League); Massachusetts (Yankee) vs. New York University (at large), and West Virginia (Southern) vs. Villanova (at large). The Wake Forest-Yale winner plays St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania (Middle Atlantic) and the West Virginia-Villanova winner meets the NYU-Massachusetts winner in the regional semifinals at the University of Maryland.

Mideast at the University of Kentucky tonight—Bowling Green (Mid-American) vs. Butler (at large); and Western Kentucky (Ohio Valley) vs. Detroit (at large). Regional semifinals at the University of Iowa pits the Bowling Green-Butler winner against Kentucky (Southeastern) and the Western Kentucky-Detroit winner against Ohio State (Big Ten).

Midwest at Southern Methodist tonight—Texas Tech (Southwest) vs. Air Force (at large); and Creighton (at large) vs. Memphis State (at large). The Texas Tech-Air Force winner meets Colorado (Big Eight) and the Creighton-Memphis State winner takes on Cincinnati or Bradley in the regional semifinals at Kansas State.

West at Oregon State Tuesday night—Oregon State (at large) vs. Seattle (at large) and Utah State (Skyline) vs. Arizona State University (Border). The Oregon State-Seattle winner faces Pepperdine (WCAC); and the Utah State-Arizona State winner plays UCLA (Big Five) at Brigham Young in the regional semifinals.

Loyola of Chicago, St. John's of New York, Houston and Cincinnati or Bradley are seeded teams in the 25th annual NIT, drawing byes into the quarterfinals.

Wichita plays Dayton and Temple tackles defending champion Providence in the opening doubleheader Thursday night. Holy Cross meets Colorado State University and Duquesne goes against Navy in Saturday afternoon's first-round games.

Eight Teams Advance In Church Play

Eight teams advanced in the YMCA-Church League tournament after action Saturday night on the "Y" court.

First Nazarene eliminated Chester Nazarene 9-5 with Marvin Six and Larry Paynter scoring three points each to pace the winners. Kenny Brewere had four for the Chester five.

Second U. P., with Dave Pridemore hooping six points, stopped First U. P. 19-5.

Ron Roach fired in eight points to lead St. John's in a 15-7 count over Chester Methodist. Dan Forsythe and Frank Manypenny had three each for the losing five.

Boyce Methodist eliminated First Nazarene 25-5 with Bill Simms scoring nine points for the winners. John Moore tallied three of his team's five markers.

Trinity U. P., with 10 players gaining the scoring column shot past Wellsville Central Methodist, 32-13. Allen Lowe led the way with nine points while Tom Wicker scored five for the losers.

LaCroft Nazarene was a 15-13 winner over Calvary Methodist. Larry Marshall's seven points led the way while Mike Silliman's nine markers topped the Calvary five.

First Church of Christ eliminated Orchard Grove 22-17. Pacing the winners was Jerry Vaughn with eight points while Bill Cunningham sank nine markers for Orchard Grove.

W. L. Smith fired in 14 points in St. Stephen's 33-13 win over Grace U. P. Alfred Pasco scored 10 of his team's 13 points in a losing battle.

Bob Graham went on an 18-point scoring spree to pace Chester Christian in a 30-13 win over Oakland Free Methodist. Bob Page tallied eight markers for the losers.

Regional Battles Open

Ohio's Tournament Field Has 'Sweet 16' Flavor Now

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen Class AA and 16 Class A teams, with a combined record of 631 wins and 101 losses, dash into regional play this weekend in Ohio's high school basketball tournaments.

The 32 squads are the survivors of 933 which started down the long trail to the March 24 state championship games. Eight quintets, four in each class, will emerge from the regionals for the championship finals next week at St. John Arena.

The 16 class AA squads, last of the 433 to remain in the running, are headed by Cleveland East Tech's 1958 and 1959 state kings. The Scarabs were voted No. 1 by the state's sports writers in the final Associated Press poll.

In Class A, where 500 teams started down "heartbreak highway," the 1961 champion Ayersville Pilots are favored. The Defiance County team was top-ranked all through the weekly polls.

But, after a series of district final upsets which swept highly-rated talent from the scene, anything can happen in the lose-and-out series.

Urbana, runnerup to Portsmouth for the 1961 Class AA crown and sporting a 22 - game winning streak, was ousted 81-74 by Clayton Northmont, a consolidated school northwest of Dayton. Middletown's seven - time champions were victimized 71-67 by Hamilton Taft, second in the state rankings and winner of 23 in a row.

But the heaviest damage came in Class A. Third-ranked Irondale Stanton Local's 23-game winning streak was halted 63-52 by Berlin Hiland; seventh-ranked Fostoria St. Wendelin bowed 62-52 to Miller City's 1950 champions; 10th-ranked Carlisle was dumped 62-55 by Cincinnati DePorres, and Zanesville Rosecrans, after winning 22 in a row, was eliminated 64-60 by Beverly Fort Frye.

When the district smoke cleared, six of the Class AA top 10 were still aboard, but only two of the Class A elite were among the survivors.

In Class AA the top 10 teams remaining were East Tech (1), Hamilton Taft (2), Mansfield St. Peter (4), Toledo Central (5), Dayton Chaminade (7) and Marietta (10). The first three make up the unbeaten contingent, the other three have bowed once—for an overall record of 134-3.

Only top-ranked Ayersville and sixth-rated Fort Frye remain of the Class A top 10—and both are unbeaten. The Pilots are 25-0, Fort Frye 24-0.

Tournament Director At Youngstown Dies

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Services were being arranged today for Dave Williams, 64, director of the Youngstown sectional and District Class AA high school Basketball tournaments for 18 years.

Williams, who died Sunday of a heart attack, handled the district tournament that ended Saturday night.

Milwaukee has a working agreement with Toronto. Ironically, Toronto is managed by Charlie Dressen, who was dropped as Braves' manager last fall.

Uhrichsville Man Moves Into Lead Of Singles Event

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ernie Reed of Uhrichsville rolled a torrid 758 to take a commanding lead in the singles competition of the Men's Ohio State Bowling Tournament here Sunday.

Reed topped Jim Wolf of Zanesville, last week's leader, by 78 pins. The Uhrichsville bowler also took the lead in the handicap singles with a 785. John Roll of Zanesville had held the lead in that department with a 718.

In other changes, Jerry's Steakhouse of Ravenna moved to the top of the team standings with a 3001 actual, and Arrow Lanes of Columbus took the top team handicap spot with a 3218 series.

The leaders in the actual doubles—Dan Meyers and Jim Thomas of Toledo—held their spot, but Ronald Jerew and Bob Hunter of Marion gained the lead in the handicap with a 1403 series.

Carl Williams of Columbus continues to lead in all events with 1938.

Mickey Cochrane is working on a two-year scouting contract with the Detroit Tigers.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

One Kook On, One Kook Off

At high noon, in a small cavernous theater in New York, an orchestra was braying, some chorus boys and girls were throwing themselves through an an opening number, and Tuesday night's "Garry Moore Show" was receiving its final licks.

Alan Gill

Watching a TV variety show run-through has much of the excitement of a Broadway musical — the dancing is much more spirited than it seems on your television screen — and with something just a little extra: the sound.

The voices, singing or talking, and the music, playing it cool or letting it rip, have a clarity and resonance to them in a TV theater that you never will hear at a legitimate show or in your living room.

-:-

HUDDLED THERE in this small cavern, I watched Garry Moore amble out onto the now lonely stage and deliver his welcomes. First, a bit of sweetness. Then a joke.

"Let's get this first joke out of here and a new one in," Mr. Moore said to some figures in the first row. "I think people may start thinking of that jet crash the other day."

(The joke, I later discovered, had Mr. Moore requesting 10 seconds of silence, and then, head raised, explaining that the pause had given the stagehands time to get the scenery in place.)

During a short break, I had a chat with Carol Burnett, who is every bit as nice as you'd expect her to be. She crossed her arms over her smock, sank deeply into an aisle seat, jackknifed her knees up to her chin, and said, "Whoooooee, I'm pooped. Look at my eyes!"

-:-

AND SHE PULLED one of her lids out about five inches from her face. She thereupon unleeshed the loudest sneeze I ever had heard.

"I've got this cold on top of it. And I've got a sprained ankle, which I got rehearsing the Carnegie Hall TV special Julie Andrews and I are taping before a black-tie audience on Monday. It won't be shown until June 11.

"I'm very nervous about the whole thing. Ver-ee. But I'm always nervous as we get close to that dress rehearsal. I force food down my throat."

IN ANSWER to questions, she offered the following incidental intelligences:

"I'm superstitious about one thing: I must pull at my ear once during every show. I live in an apartment facing Central Park with my kid sister who isn't like me at all. Bee-yoo-ti-ful! Very svelte. Eyelashes out to here.

"And I also live with a kitten named Ralph and two Yorkshire terriers, Bruce and Fang. Bruce is the female."

Miss Burnett, who first attracted national attention when she sang "I Made a Fool of Myself Over John Foster Dulles," enjoyed a large personal success in the musical, "Once Upon a Mattress."

-:-

"I LOVED the show and would have stayed with it forever, but, between it and television, I ran myself down to a size 6 and had to quit.

"I liked the matinees best. The risque stuff was over the kids' heads, but they loved the kookiness."

(As we talked, Alan King faced the cameras, horsing around with the technicians but saving his routine for the actual taping, thereby assuring himself a walloping reception from this best of all audiences.)

"Are you a kook?" I asked Miss Burnett.

"On-screen, yes. Off-screen, no. Now, Julie Andrews: off-stage she's a real kook, nothing like her stage roles of Liza Doolittle or Queen Guenivere. She's earthy and loves to prank around.

-:-

"WE HIT IT OFF wonderfully. If it weren't for the fact that Julie works nights and I work days, we'd be together all the time.

"We're going to do 'Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall' on television and then add a lot of stuff and take away some stuff and tour it around the country as a show.

"Then, in the summer, we'll take it to the Palladium in London. Lon-don. If I live."

She sneezed once more, violently, and sauntered to the stage where she went through a routine with Moore that had the camera crews doubled up.

A real kook.

5 Youths Questioned For Series Of Crimes

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Police were questioning five juveniles they said admitted a series of burglaries and car thefts in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Summit County sheriff's deputies quoted the boys as saying they stole such items as soft drinks, candy bars, cheap jewelry and watches along with at least five cars. Ranging in age from 14 to 17, two are from Akron and the others from Pennsylvania. Deputies took them into custody Sunday.

Agents Arrest 8 In Lottery Raids In Lorain County

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal agents have arrested eight men in connection with what they described as a half million dollar gambling operation. Two others are being sought.

Those in custody were to be arraigned today on charges of failing to buy a federal wagering tax stamp.

Agents staged simultaneous raids late Sunday on what they called Bolita Banks, district headquarters for the Puerto Rican national lottery. They said both raids were set for Sunday because money collections are due then while the winning number is being picked in Puerto Rico.

Arrested in Lorain were Sixto Torres, Valentine R. Lopes, Angel R. Feliciano, Felix G. Flores, Louis Ruben Rivera and Lornzo Cancel, said to be the ringleader of the Lorain County operation. Some were at home and other were at the El Boricua restaurant.

John L. Kocevar, state liquor enforcement chief in Cleveland, accompanied the treasury agents. Kocevar said Paul Ortiz, the restraurant owner, would be cited for permitting gambling on his premises.

In Campbell, a Youngstown suburb, agents seized $3,800 and gambling slips at a home in which Victor Seguinot was arrested.

Agents then went to the Republic Steel plant in Youngstown to arrest Angel Cancel, brother of the alleged Lorain Bolita Bank operator.

The first chewing gum was manufactured in 1848 in Bangor, Me.

Lake-River Canal Set For Meeting's Theme

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The proposed lake-to-river canal will be the theme of the annual meeting of the Downtown Board of Trade March 22.

Main speaker will be Charles G. Nichols, department store executive and head of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc., newly-created group supporting the project.

Powers Due Welcome In Hill Country

BIG STONE GAP, Va. (AP) — U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, "glad to be home" and in the market for a new suit, was set for a homey hello from his native hill country today.

Powers, visiting his parents' home at nearby Pound for the first time since his release from a Soviet prison, planned to shop in Norton for a new suit.

The flier then was due to join a small motorcade to the National Guard armory here where local officials will welcome him back to mountainous southwest Virginia.

Most of the 49,000 Wise County residents don't know Powers personally, for he lived in the Pound area only briefly. He spent more time in nearby Jenkins, Ky., and in Grundy, Va., where he went to high school.

But the citizenry does know Powers' father, Oliver Powers, a Norton cobbler.

Powers slipped quietly in under cover of darkness early Sunday after a drive from Washington. He spent the rest of the night chatting with his family, got two hours sleep, and was up again.

After a home-cooked turkey dinner Sunday night, Powers said there were no words to describe his feeling. He said it was the first time he and his five sisters have been together since 1933.

Powers spent part of Sunday afternoon horseback riding in the hill country and quipped, "I haven't had much opportunity to do that sort of thing recently."

Reaction in the community was subdued. Local officials were anxious to show Powers he was welcome at home, although admittedly, said one, "It is not a hero's welcome—he (Powers) did not want that."

His wife, Barbara Powers, did not plan to attend the hometown celebration.

At Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Powers said she is waiting for her husband to come to Georgia. She has been living with her mother in Milledgeville since Powers plane went down.

Educational TV aids Ohio State professors

Another pressing problem of education is being met at Ohio State University. The problem: teaching larger classes. The solution: closed-circuit television, enabling over 15,000 students annually to view lectures and close-up demonstrations in modern TV classrooms. The TV "carrier" system, which Ohio Bell engineered and installed, uses some six miles of coaxial cable, providing for as many as 18 simultaneous broadcasts. This TV cable system is one of many services furnished by Ohio Bell to meet a wide range of communications needs.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

One Kook On, One Kook Off

At high noon, in a small cavernous theater in New York, an orchestra was braying, some chorus boys and girls were throwing themselves through an an opening number, and Tuesday night's "Garry Moore Show" was receiving its final licks.

Alan Gill

Watching a TV variety show run-through has much of the excitement of a Broadway musical — the dancing is much more spirited than it seems on your television screen — and with something just a little extra: the sound.

The voices, singing or talking, and the music, playing it cool or letting it rip, have a clarity and resonance to them in a TV theater that you never will hear at a legitimate show or in your living room.

-:-

HUDDLED THERE in this small cavern, I watched Garry Moore amble out onto the now lonely stage and deliver his welcomes. First, a bit of sweetness. Then a joke.

"Let's get this first joke out of here and a new one in," Mr. Moore said to some figures in the first row. "I think people may start thinking of that jet crash the other day."

(The joke, I later discovered, had Mr. Moore requesting 10 seconds of silence, and then, head raised, explaining that the pause had given the stagehands time to get the scenery in place.)

During a short break, I had a chat with Carol Burnett, who is every bit as nice as you'd expect her to be. She crossed her arms over her smock, sank deeply into an aisle seat, jackknifed her knees up to her chin, and said, "Whooooooee, I'm pooped. Look at my eyes!"

-:-

AND SHE PULLED one of her lids out about five inches from her face. She thereupon unleeshed the loudest sneeze I ever had heard.

"I've got this cold on top of it. And I've got a sprained ankle, which I got rehearsing the Carnegie Hall TV special Julie Andrews and I are taping before a black-tie audience on Monday. It won't be shown until June 11.

"I'm very nervous about the whole thing. Ver-ee. But I'm always nervous as we get close to that dress rehearsal. I force food down my throat."

IN ANSWER to questions, she offered the following incidental intelligences:

"I'm superstitious about one thing: I must pull at my ear once during every show. I live in an apartment facing Central Park with my kid sister who isn't like me at all. Bee-yoo-ti-ful! Very svelte. Eyelashes out to here.

"And I also live with a kitten named Ralph and two Yorkshire terriers, Bruce and Fang. Bruce is the female."

Miss Burnett, who first attracted national attention when she sang "I Made a Fool of Myself Over John Foster Dulles," enjoyed a large personal success in the musical, "Once Upon a Mattress."

-:-

"I LOVED the show and would have stayed with it forever, but, between it and television, I ran myself down to a size 6 and had to quit.

"I liked the matinees best. The risque stuff was over the kids' heads, but they loved the kookiness."

(As we talked, Alan King faced the cameras, horsing around with the technicians but saving his routine for the actual taping, thereby assuring himself a walloping reception from this best of all audiences.)

"Are you a kook?" I asked Miss Burnett.

"On-screen, yes. Off-screen, no. Now, Julie Andrews: off-stage she's a real kook, nothing like her stage roles of Liza Doolittle or Queen Guenivere. She's earthy and loves to prank around.

-:-

"WE HIT IT OFF wonderfully. If it weren't for the fact that Julie works nights and I work days, we'd be together all the time.

"We're going to do 'Julie and Carol at Carnegie Hall' on television and then add a lot of stuff and take away some stuff and tour it around the country as a show.

"Then, in the summer, we'll take it to the Palladium in London. Lon-don. If I live."

She sneezed once more, violently, and sauntered to the stage where she went through a routine with Moore that had the camera crews doubled up.

A real kook.

5 Youths Questioned For Series Of Crimes

Agents Arrest 8 In Lottery Raids In Lorain County

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal agents have arrested eight men in connection with what they described as a half million dollar gambling operation. Two others are being sought.

Those in custody were to be arraigned today on charges of failing to buy a federal wagering tax stamp.

Agents staged simultaneous raids late Sunday on what they called Bolita Banks, district headquarters for the Puerto Rican national lottery. They said both raids were set for Sunday because money collections are due then while the winning number is being picked in Puerto Rico.

Arrested in Lorain were Sixto Torres, Valentine R. Lopes, Angel R. Feliciano, Felix G. Flores, Louis Ruben Rivera and Lornzo Cancel, said to be the ringleader of the Lorain County operation. Some were at home and other were at the El Boricua restaurant.

John L. Kocevar, state liquor enforcement chief in Cleveland, accompanied the treasury agents. Kocevar said Paul Ortiz, the restraurant owner, would be cited for permitting gambling on his premises.

In Campbell, a Youngstown suburb, agents seized $3,800 and gambling slips at a home in which Victor Seguinot was arrested.

Agents then went to the Republic Steel plant in Youngstown to arrest Angel Cancel, brother of the alleged Lorain Bolita Bank operator.

The first chewing gum was manufactured in 1848 in Bangor, Me.

Lake-River Canal Set For Meeting's Theme

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The proposed lake-to-river canal will be the theme of the annual meeting of the Downtown Board of Trade March 22.

Main speaker will be Charles G. Nichols, department store executive and head of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc., newly-created group supporting the project.

Powers Due Welcome In Hill Country

BIG STONE GAP, Va. (AP) — U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, "glad to be home" and in the market for a new suit, was set for a homey hello from his native hill country today.

Powers, visiting his parents' home at nearby Pound for the first time since his release from a Soviet prison, planned to shop in Norton for a new suit.

The flier then was due to join a small motorcade to the National Guard armory here where local officials will welcome him back to mountainous southwest Virginia.

Most of the 49,000 Wise County residents don't know Powers personally, for he lived in the Pound area only briefly. He spent more time in nearby Jenkins, Ky., and in Grundy, Va., where he went to high school.

But the citizenry does know Powers' father, Oliver Powers, a Norton cobbler.

Powers slipped quietly in under cover of darkness early Sunday after a drive from Washington. He spent the rest of the night chatting with his family, got two hours sleep, and was up again.

After a home-cooked turkey dinner Sunday night, Powers said there were no words to describe his feeling. He said it was the first time he and his five sisters have been together since 1933.

Powers spent part of Sunday afternoon horseback riding in the hill country and quipped. "I haven't had much opportunity to do that sort of thing recently."

Reaction in the community was subdued. Local officials were anxious to show Powers he was welcome at home, although admittedly, said one, "It is not a hero's welcome—he (Powers) did not want that."

His wife, Barbara Powers, did not plan to attend the hometown celebration.

At Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Powers said she is waiting for her husband to come to Georgia. She has been living with her mother in Milledgeville since Powers plane went down.

Educational TV aids Ohio State professors

Another pressing problem of education is being met at Ohio State University. The problem: teaching larger classes. The solution: closed-circuit television, enabling over 15,000 students annually to view lectures and close-up demonstrations in modern TV classrooms. The TV "carrier" system, which Ohio Bell engineered and installed, uses some six miles of coaxial cable, providing for as many as 18 simultaneous broadcasts. This TV cable system is one of many services furnished by Ohio Bell to meet a wide range of communications needs.

LEGAL NOTICES

LEGAL NOTICE MARCH 12
Legal Notice Public Health Nurse

The East Liverpool Civil Service Commission announces that a Competitive assembled examination for the position of Public Health Nurse for the City of East Liverpool, will be held on Monday, April 16, 1962 at 8 o'clock p.m. in the Council Chambers.

Salary—$326.00 per month—$75.00 per month car expense.

Description—Professional nursing in the treatment, medication and care of patients, as prescribed by the Health laws.

Applicants must be a registered nurse between the ages of 21 and 50 by the date of examination, and have been a legal resident of East Liverpool, and a citizen of the United States for 6 months prior to examination date.

A complete physical examination will be required before certification.

Applications will be accepted until Monday, April 2, 1962 at 4 p.m.

Application forms can be obtained at the Mayors office, or any member of the Civil Service Commission.

Fee of one Dollar must accompany each notorized application. Eligibility list from the examination will be in effect for one year from date of examination.

"I hope when Junior gets old enough to notice girls, you'll be old enough to stop."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make gelatin dessert or salad very quickly, when time is at a premium?

A. Mix your gelatin with only enough hot water to dissolve it, then use ice water for the remaining amount of liquid. The gelatin will set in just a few minutes. Add fruit, if you wish, but be sure that it is ice cold.

Q. How can I prevent any grease spots on plastered walls from "bleeding through" new wallpaper and ruining its appearance?

A. Before applying your new paper, cover all the grease spots on the walls with shellac, and allow this to dry thoroughly. The shellac effectively seals in the grease.

Q. How can I remove some grease spots from wallpaper?

A. A paste made of regular flour and carbon tetrachloride, of the consistency of soft putty, can be used to remove these grease spots from your wallpaper. Using a spatula or a knife on the grease-spattered areas, be sure that you have covered well past the actual edge of the spots. After five to 10 minutes, flake off the dried paste, and the grease will usually come off with it. If a ring remains on your paper, rub it lightly with an art-gum eraser, or daub it with a little of the carbon tetrachloride.

Q. How can I most easily remove cat and dog hairs from upholstered furniture or car seats?

A. Simply by wiping lightly over them with a board wrapped with adhesive tape, sticky side out.

Q. How can I mend kid gloves so that the repair will be substantial?

A. By first buttonholing around the edges of the tear before drawing them together, and then oversewing the buttonhole.

Q. How can I keep the cream from curdling in coffee?

A. If the sweetness of cream seems uncertain, stir in a pinch of baking soda. This will prevent its curdling even in hot coffee.

Junior Editors Quiz on MYTHOLOGY

QUESTION: What does it mean when a person has an "Achilles heel"?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Long ago, in ancient Greece, people believed in a group of gods who lived on Mount Olympus, and lesser beings, some called nymphs. One such nymph. Thetis, married an ordinary man. Their child was Achilles. Thetis knew that if she dipped her son into the River Styx he would be protected by the magic waters, so when he was a baby she took him to the river. No one knows quite why she did a bad job of it, but when Thetis dipped Achilles in the water she held him by his heel, which of course remained dry. Then she neglected to dip the heel in the water. In the following years, nothing could harm Achilles. Arrows flew past him; he was truly protected by the water. But one fateful day during the Trojan War, a prince of the enemy forces shot an arrow into Achilles' heel. Achilles died immediately. He had been hit in the only unprotected part of his body. Today we know that every person, even the strongest man, has a weak spot, not necessarily in his body but perhaps in his character. This weak spot which might someday stand in his way is called his "Achilles Heel." For example, a man may not be able to makes speeches in front of large audiences, but he wants to be a politician. Anyone in politics has to speak publicly. Therefore, his inability to make speeches is his "Achilles Heel."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to think of what is your own Achilles Heel. Once you find it, try to see what you can do to correct it. Sometimes, if these weak spots are discovered early enough, they disappear.

Hike Of $7,376,167

Hancock Boosts Tax Assessment

Buttressed by a huge boost in Class I personal property, Hancock County's assessments for 1962 show an increase of $7,376,167 over last year.

Figures released today by Assessor Anthony (Tony) Leon place assessments on personal property, real estate and public utilities at $121,500,625.

This compares with assessments of $114,124,458 in 1961.

Leon has hiked county assessments some $15 million in two years to comply with requirements set by the West Virginia State Tax Commission.

—:—

THE STATE Tax Commission requires county assessors to bring assessments up to 50 per cent of the state appraisal or face penalties in cutbacks of state aid.

Leon will use certified valuation figures next year and the assessments apparently will level off at the 1962 status.

Largest increase came in Class I personal property, hiked by $5,527,275.

Assessments in Chester were boosted $902,805 — from $6,031,645 in 1961 to $6,934,450.

New Cumberland was the only municipality to show a decrease, dropping $150,483. The county seat's assessments total $2,066,780, compared to $2,217,263 in 1961.

WEIRTON, LARGEST city in the county, bore the largest assessment. Weirton's assessments were increased $4,851,220 to $95,590,070. They were $90,738,850 in 1961.

Leon increased rural assessments $1,772,625 to $16,909,325. The figure was $15,136,700 in 1961.

The assessor was faced with the task of overcoming about $2 million in depreciation value on between 13,000 and 15,000 autos in the county.

—:—

A BREAKDOWN of the county's assessments, with last year's figures in parenthesis, follows:

Class I — Personal property, $14,156,900 ($8,629,625); public utilities, $352,900 ($352,900). Total $14,509,800 ($8,982,525).

Clarkson Unit Sets Meeting

The United Presbyterian Women's Association of the Clarkson Presbyterian Church will meet tonight at 7:30 in the church.

The meeting, originally set March 5, was postponed because of the heavy snow.

Mrs. Velma Watson and Mrs. Evelyn Todd will lead devotions. The program topic will be "God Shows His Love For Us." Mrs. Lenore Huff and Mrs. Lois Swaney, hostesses, will provide refreshments.

Clarkson Grange will meet Thursday night at 8 with Reuben Lunger, master, in charge. The home economics committee will sponsor a public card party in the hall Thursday night, March 22, at 8. A free lunch will be served.

Mrs. Myrtle McCoy, Juvenile Grange matron, will have charge of the Juvenile Grange meeting. Mrs. Dorothy Davis, lecturer, will arrange the program.

Mrs. Annie Hickman has been released from City Hospital, where she was a patient three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert George of New Waterford were Sunday dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett George.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and son, Bobby Jack, visited Sunday with former's cousins, William and Mame Beckstold of Bellevue, Pa.

Friends have recieved word of the serious illness of Richard Bloor of Lisbon, former Clarkson resident.

Boy, Girl Win In Spelling At No. 16 School

Tim Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood of Frischkorn Addition, and Margie Gitchell, who resides with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Culp of 18th St. Heights, were first place winners in the No. 16 School elimination spelling contest Friday afternoon.

Tim participated in the fifth and sixth grades division and Margie took part in the seventh and eighth grades group.

Other winners in the fifth and sixth grades were: Mike Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Cramer of the old Salineville Rd., second; Larry Roseberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roseberry, also of the old Salineville Rd., third, and Pam Stalder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stalder of the Frischkorn Addition, alternate.

Janette Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyd of Wellsville R. D. 1, won second place; Sue Serafy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Serafy of R. D. 1, third, and Sherry Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mercer of 18th St. Heights, alternate.

The first three winners in both groups will compete against Wayne, Franklin, Salineville and Highlandtown School winners Friday in the district contest at Salineville.

Pronouncers were Mrs. Dorothy Price and Miss Edna Duncan and judges were Mrs. Martha Serafy and Tom Jones, faculty members.

Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, presented awards to each of the winners and alternates. Lorin Ruff, county elementary consultant, and Hubert Lawrence, county psychologist, were guests.

Civil War Group Sets Discussion On Shiloh

The Tri-State Civil War Roundtable will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Carnegie Library for a general discussion of the Battle of Shiloh.

James Pelley and John Markanton will be leaders of a review of the famed encounter of April 1862, when a confederate Army under Gen. Albert S. Johnston attacked a Union army of Gen. U. S. Grant at Pittsburg Landing on the Tennessee River.

Anyone interested in the war era may attend, Wayne Wallace, president, said.

Netherlands New Guinea was discovered in 1511 by Portuguese sailors.

Hike Of $7,376,167

Hancock Boosts Tax Assessment

Buttressed by a huge boost in Class I personal property, Hancock County's assessments for 1962 show an increase of $7,376,167 over last year.

Figures released today by Assessor Anthony (Tony) Leon place assessments on personal property, real estate and public utilities at $121,500,625.

This compares with assessments of $114,124,458 in 1961.

Leon has hiked county assessments some $15 million in two years to comply with requirements set by the West Virginia State Tax Commission.

—:—

THE STATE Tax Commission requires county assessors to bring assessments up to 50 per cent of the state appraisal or face penalties in cutbacks of state aid.

Leon will use certified valuation figures next year and the assessments apparently will level off at the 1962 status.

Largest increase came in Class I personal property, hiked by $5,527,275.

Assessments in Chester were boosted $902,805 — from $6,031,645 in 1961 to $6,934,450.

New Cumberland was the only municipality to show a decrease, dropping $150,483. The county seat's assessments total $2,066,780, compared to $2,217,263 in 1961.

WEIRTON, LARGEST city in the county, bore the largest assessment. Weirton's assessments were increased $4,851,220 to $95,590,070. They were $90,738,850 in 1961.

Leon increased rural assessments $1,772,625 to $16,909,325. The figure was $15,136,700 in 1961.

The assessor was faced with the task of overcoming about $2 million in depreciation value on between 13,000 and 15,000 autos in the county.

A BREAKDOWN of the county's assessments, with last year's figures in parenthesis, follows:

Class I — Personal property, $14,156,900 ($8,629,625); public utilities, $352,900 ($352,900). Total $14,509,800 ($8,982,525).

Boy, Girl Win In Spelling At No. 16 School

Tim Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood of Frischkorn Addition, and Margie Gitchell, who resides with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Culp of 18th St. Heights, were first place winners in the No. 16 School elimination spelling contest Friday afternoon.

Tim participated in the fifth and sixth grades division and Margie took part in the seventh and eighth grades group.

Other winners in the fifth and sixth grades were: Mike Cramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Cramer of the old Salineville Rd., second; Larry Roseberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roseberry, also of the old Salineville Rd., third, and Pam Stalder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stalder of the Frischkorn Addition, alternate.

Janette Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boyd of Wellsville R. D. 1, won second place; Sue Serafy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Serafy of R. D. 1, third, and Sherry Mercer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mercer of 18th St. Heights, alternate.

The first three winners in both groups will compete against Wayne, Franklin, Salineville and Highlandtown School winners Friday in the district contest at Salineville.

Pronouncers were Mrs. Dorothy Price and Miss Edna Duncan and judges were Mrs. Martha Serafy and Tom Jones, faculty members.

Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, presented awards to each of the winners and alternates. Lorin Ruff, county elementary consultant, and Hubert Lawrence, county psychologist, were guests.

Civil War Group Sets Discussion On Shiloh

The Tri-State Civil War Roundtable will meet Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Carnegie Library for a general discussion of the Battle of Shiloh.

James Pelley and John Markanton will be leaders of a review of the famed encounter of April 1862, when a confederate Army under Gen. Albert S. Johnston attacked a Union army of Gen. U. S. Grant at Pittsburg Landing on the Tennessee River.

Anyone interested in the war era may attend, Wayne Wallace, president, said.

Netherlands New Guinea was discovered in 1511 by Portuguese sailors.
